Family fun on the 4th

By DAN GRAFFEO

The skies were clearer than anticipated when I reached both Tewksbury and Wilmington's town common. It was hard to believe there was a tornado warning the night before; but even if the warning became a reality, I doubt it would have stopped either town from celebrating Independence Day.

Only the carnival staff and food trucks would get good parking on this day as a sea of men, women, and children struggled to find a space for their vehicles and anxiously await for the festivities to begin. Three or four generations of music blared over the disc jockey's monstrous speakers and the field looked like a large multi-colored quilt as countless families laid down their blankets for the fireworks later on. A line, several dozen yards long, formed of children eager to have their pictures taken with Darth Vader, Winnie the Pooh, (and Tigger too), Cookie Monster, Elmo, Snow White, Cinderella, Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse, characters from "the Wizard of Oz," and other tot favorites, while more patient youngsters like four and a half-year-old Zachery Miller waited for the games and carnival rides to commence; and at nearby flagpoles, Old Glory waved in approval of both town's patriotism.

I found Jim Hanley, a Marine and a member of the Fun on the Fourth Committee in Wilmington, behind the scenes, doing his best for others to enjoy themselves. He smiled proudly at his (and his co-workers') accomplishments. "This year the parade (bike and doll carriage) will be larger, "he said, "looks like more kids, seems like they never stopped coming. People are already set up on the common for tonight, so they have their seats; come tomorrow morning, this

Distraught man helped

By FRANK AMATO

WILMINGTON - A local 35 year old local resident is in an area hospital undergoing psychiatric evaluation after being subdued by members of the North East Massachusetts Law Enforcement Council (N.E.M.L.E.C.) Special Operation Unit.

At 1:00 A.M. Wednesday morning, Wilmington Police were summoned to a local residence for a report of a man with a gun threatening to kill himself.

When the officers arrived, the man fled into his back yard where he barricaded himself inside a shed with a loaded .45 caliber handgun.

Wilmington Police Sergeants Robert Richter and Chris Neville were successful in maintaining a dialogue with the man for about 3 hours while the N.E.M.L.E.C. Special Operations Unit set up in the area. Richter, who had been first of the two on the scene had made a rapport with the man, and then Neville who is a N.E.M.L.E.C. Negotiator assisted in the dialogue.

At one point, the man attempted to fire his weapon into the ground and when the weapon failed to fire, it became apparent to the officers that the man was having difficulty firing the weapon members of the Special Operations Unit were able to enter the back yard and charge the man. He was subdued without any further incident. He was taken to a local hospital for psychiatric evaluation.

Bridget Meuse, who found $11.00 at the Wilmington Plaza one year ago turned it into police. Nobody claimed the funds, and Deputy Chief Nally presented the money to her. She is going to Maine and plans to spend the money there. (Photo by Frank Amato)

Tewksbury - Wilmington Miceli office hours

WILMINGTON - Representative James R. Miceli (D-Tewksbury/Wilmington) has announced his monthly office hours for July on the following dates:

Wilmington: Monday, July 21 from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at 4A Colonial Park Mall.

Fourth was Fun!

common will be covered with chairs and tables and everything."

But what would the Fourth of July really mean without talking to at least one Tewksbury veteran? Both parades were paid with undying respect as a community watched and cheered and waved their stars and striped flags at the red, white, and blue dressed bands with their golden instruments, along with famous cartoon figures, and dozens of brave U.S. veterans.

Ever present at Fun on the Fourth activities, Tom Pazyra gave a ride to C.J. Dellasola in a mini Corvette. (photo by Erik Neilson)

When I caught up with Korean War veteran John Haver, I was curious to know what the Fourth of July meant to someone who had served his country. "It's about celebrating that American ideals are still preserved in spite of all the political junk that goes on," he replied, "things are still the same like freedom of speech and freedom of the press." Haver then introduced me to his cheerful wife Maurie, who is, to my surprise, also a veteran of the Korean War. "The Fourth of July is all about patriotism and the beginning of our country, I was a secretary in the war, and my husband worked in the electrical shops," she declared, then with smiling pride, pointed to her grandchildren, "my granddaughter Kristyn Brophy (age 7) was Betsy Ross in the bike parade along with my grandson Matt (age 4), who won first prize as Uncle Sam."

Although I'm certain that many Americans love Independence Day for the fact that it's a day off from work, and a good excuse to try out the biggest and noisiest fireworks, anyone who steps into either Tewksbury or Wilmington will see that there's more involved. Much, much more. So I conclude this article by saying, "God Bless America."

Norma Heider of Woburn Street was pictured before the board of health as she discussed the odor problems of Corenco. Also in the photo was Bob Masters, who proposed that the town cut off Corenco from Woburn Street.

Mrs. Heider and the board of health were in agreement that the Corenco plant, in Billerica,was a constant source of unpleasant odors.

Dunkin Donuts representatives were jumping from board to board trying to get approval for the construction of a new Dunkin Donuts on Main Street between Burger King and the Texaco station.

Cheri Nelson of Whipple Road earned a BS degree in marketing and graduated magna cum laude from ULowell.

Mary Beth Thiel of William G. Drive received a bachelor of architecture from the College of Fine Arts at Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh.

Morton Curtis of Carter Lane completed Marine Corps recruit training at Parris Island, S.C.

Air Force Capt. Robert Kelliher of Kent Street arrived for duty with the 47th Student Squadron at Laughlin Air Force Base, Texas.

It's YOUR Money

FILING TIME

Perhaps you've been contributing to a Keogh plan for some years now. Or maybe the recent run up of stock prices has inflated your holdings. But once the aggregate assets of your Keogh plan (or plans) tops $100,000 (in a one - participant plan, which may include owner and spouse), it's time to file a 5500 Report. Multi-member plans must file regularly, whatever the assets. The form for one- participant plans is the 5500-EZ and it is easy to fill out. A separate form should be filed for each qualified plan: profit-sharing and money plans, or those held in different banks or brokerages. The trustee, usually the bank brokerage, will supply the end-of-year evaluations you need as well as a Schedule P that should be filed with your report. The report must be filed by the end of the seventh month following the end of the plan year, usually by July 31. You may request an extension for up to two and a half months. You'll get the answers you need to your tax question from the professional at

"Under One Sky" is library theme

WILMINGTON - In conjunction with the multicultural performance "Under One Sky" on Friday, July 11, book displays at the library feature books with this theme. In the Children's Room, a wide net has been cast to pull in many ethnic groups explored in children's literature. Children's Librarian, Sharon Ruetenik, recommends Just Like New by Ainslie Manson and Karen Reczuch in which the reader returns to the Montreal of World War II where a generous gesture by a child unites a young Canadian girl and her English counterpart in war torn London.

In Abuela by Arthur Dorros, a young Hispanic girl takes imaginary flight with her grandmother over Manhattan. This display also includes stories that represent such countries as Poland, Lebanon, and Japan. Mrs. Ruetenik can suggest an appropriate title to help your child learn more about cultural diversity or his/her own ethnic heritage.

For those interested in further research on a particular ethnic culture, Lori Hodgson, Reference Librarian recommends Gale Encyclopedia of Multicultural America, an excellent reference book with interesting details about the history and culture of a wide variety of ethnic groups that define American society. In the Adult Department, Mrs. Hodgson has included on display Ellis Island by Wilton S. Tifft. This book's superb photographs provide the reader with a stirring visual experience of his immigration station that was the symbol of hope for millions of our ancestors.

To celebrate their rich and varied ethnic backgrounds, members of the library staff have contributed artifacts for the exhibit case in the front lobby of the library. Look for objects representative of India, Italy, Ireland, Scotland and Lithuania. Thanks to Assistant Children's Librarian, Susan MacDonald, for arranging this display and the multicultural posters that decorate the front lobby. Those attending the program on Friday evening should remember to enter at the front entrance to the library.

Pocket wonders

For those nostalgic for the summer days of another generation, the Children's Department is offering a craft program from a simpler time. On Wednesday, July 16 at 2 p.m., children ages five to 12 are invited to create "pocket wonders," toys they can tuck into their pockets or keep hidden in a dresser drawer. To answer "There's nothing do to..." check out the featured books on games and puzzles that will be on display.

Robert Michelson Memorial

The library is very grateful to the Robert Michelson family for designating the Wilmington Memorial Library as the recipient of gifts in memory of Mr. Michelson. Thank you to all who have generously contributed to this fund. Mr. Michelson's name will be added to the library's Memorial Plaque.

Art Museum passes

Thank you to the Wilmington Arts Council for renewing the library membership pass to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum. Please note that the pass for the Gardner Museum is only available Tuesday through Friday. Call the library at 658-2967 to reserve either pass.

Whitefield Elm decorates Town Seal

by Capt. Larz Neilson

The town seal of Wilmington bears a picture of the Whitefield Elm, a stately tree which grew in North Wilmington, near Middlesex Avenue. It was growing about 350 years ago. Beneath this Elm tree the Rev. George Whitefield was said to have preached "to the Indians" according to local lore.

The Rev. George Whitefield had been ordained by the Church of England, but he changed his style of thinking to the new Methodist creed being advocated in England about 1740. He spent over a dozen years in the Colonies in America, preaching in the new style.

The Puritan clergy of New England did not welcome the change. One of those who did not approve was the Rev. Isaac Morrill of Wilmington.

Harvard College had been established as a seminary for the Puritan clergy in 1635. To graduate from Harvard, however, was not a guarantee of appointment. One had to wait a "call" from a church, and then an offer to become a clergyman, before being appointed.

Isaac Morrill, when he graduated from Harvard in 1737 was the 24th in the class, which numbered 34 persons. The class number had no relationship to the standing of the scholar. It was, instead, a reflection of the social prominence of the parents.

There had been a thorough grounding in Hebrew, Greek, the Bible and philosophy, with extensive readings in the latest in both the British and French philosophers.

Mr. Morrill was "called" in 1741 to take the pulpit of the Wilmington church. He was ordained on May 20, his 23rd birthday. He remained minister of the Wilmington church for over 52 years, until his death on August 7, 1793. His home still exists near the "Mill" Brook on Middlesex Avenue. Members of the Morrill family lived in that home for over 200 years.

In the files of the Massachusetts Historical Society is a volume written by about 100 men who had graduated from Harvard College. The Rev. Mr. Morrill was one of those men.

Mr. Morrill related that when the Rev. Mr. Whitefield proposed to preach in the Wilmington church the use of the pulpit in that church was forbidden by Mr. Morrill. He then visited every home in the Wilmington parish and had forbade the people of Wilmington to listen to Mr. Whitefield.

Wilmington's Town Seal features the Whitfield Elm, in front of the Harriman Tannery. The Elm stood before the tannery for nearly a century, before being cut down around 1950.

It is possible that some Wilmington residents did hear Mr. Whitefield, but the Wilmington tradition, right or wrong, says it was "only Indians."

The tree, which grew to magnificent proportions, was cut down after the year 1900. Several photographs were taken of it, in its last days.

Peter McMahon, a local butcher, lived on the opposite side of Middlesex Avenue, about 1200 feet southerly. He acquired a huge block of that tree to use as a chopping block. It was about 36 inches in diameter and about a foot thick.

After using that block for many years Peter gave it to Louis Doucette of Ballardvale Street. He was in the business of growing turkeys for Thanksgiving. Louie, about 1960 gave that chopping block to his sister Alice, Wilmington nurse. Alice or a relative gave it to a relative who lived in southern Connecticut. Possibly it is still in existence.

Bernard McMahon, retired high school principal of Wilmington, son of Peter, had other plans for the use of that last piece of the Whitefield. He was, at that time, the president of the Rotary Club of Wilmington.

The Rotary Club had purchased the former Hiller cranberry bog near Wilmington Center and had plans to fill in that bog and make it into a playground for children. McMahon had the idea of setting up that piece of the Whitefield Elm in the Rotary Park playground.

But he was too late. The last piece of the Whitefield Elm had already left Wilmington for Connecticut.

The ladies of the Wilmington Women's Club, about 1906, had erected a monument to tell of the Whitefield Elm. It was on the site of the tree, right by the sidewalk in North Wilmington. A substantial stone was erected to which a bronze (or brass) plate was affixed, telling of the Whitefield Elm.

That plaque disappeared about 1950, probably sold to a pawnbroker in suburban Boston. And a dozen years later the stone disappeared, probably into the foundation of some new building.

Letters to the editor

The communities of Goshen and Nod

Dear Larz:

I enjoyed your article on the communities of Goshen & Nod. I would like to see more of this type of story in The Town Crier.

It has been some time since Tewksbury has been featured in the paper. I feel as though we are a stepchild; even though we are listed in the heading. We have plenty of history too, especially in North Tewksbury.

I also miss the puzzle that was in the paper until a few weeks ago. The one that had two sections and one had to find the seven things that were different in the second section.

Thanks for the blurb on the U.S.S. Constitution. We will take our grandchild.

Sincerely,
Marion E. Clark

In the pasts years this writer has written stories of the past history of Tewksbury, and how it grew. Maybe one of these days they will appear as one story.

Larz

The Activities Committee says thanks

Dear Larz:

The Tewksbury Patriotic Activities Committee would like to thank the following organizations who made the 4th of July 1997 observance such a great success:

Tewksbury Seniors	DPW
Fire Dept.	Police Dept.
St. Wm's Mens Club	Elks
Building Dept.	K of C
Explorers	Wal-mart
VFW	Aux. Police
Bd of Health	Selectmen
Tewksbury Hosp.	Town Mgr.

Civil Air Patrol

Without the help and support of all these organizations the Patriotic Activities Committee would not be able to sponsor such noteworthy events. We hope all of the citizens of Tewksbury enjoyed the festivities and we are looking forward to next year.

Sincerely yours,
Jerry Selissen
4th of July Chairman

North St. Fire Station open

By BOB CARROLL

TEWKSBURY — Selectman John Ryan, elected April 5, had as a major campaign plank the reopening of the North Street Fire Station, and the station is now open.

"Everybody wanted it open," observed Ryan. He added that reopening the station meant reallocating fire fighting funds and coming to an agreement about staffing with the fire chief and firefighters' union.

Ryan observed that in May, Town Meeting backed the reopening of the station, which was supported by the Finance Committee and the firefighter's union. After reallocating line items, said Ryan, the next item was to garner the support of the union.

Since at the time the firefighters and town were "involved in spirited negotiations," observed Ryan, it took come extra cooperation from the fire fighters to ease the way toward reopening the station. Ryan said the firefighters reduced cost to the town by agreeing that when new firefighters hired to staff the station were in training, the station could function as an ambulance company. This reduced staffing requirements.

Town Manager David Cressman first said of the reopened fire station, "Good news! Great!" Cressman elaborated about staffing, explaining that as an engine company, the station should be staffed by three fire fighters on each shift. However, only two fire fighters per shift are needed for the station to function as an ambulance company.

The firefighters agreed to allow the station to function with only two firefighters as an ambulance company whenever one of the station's staff is in training. This arrangement, said Cressman, is to continue throughout the fiscal year until June 30, 1998.

White Hen gets no beer license

By CHARLOTTE COOPER

TEWKSBURY – At a hearing continued from June 10th, White Hen Pantry, located at the Keri Plaza at 1699 Shawsheen St., was denied a license to sell beer and wine.

Lawrence D. Kelley, the owner and manager of the White Hen franchise, appeared before the Board of Selectmen Tuesday night July 8th to discuss his application for a license to sell wine and malt beverages. His attorney, Anne Marie Anderson of Boston, and two other White Hen associates were also in attendance to aid in Kelley's proposal.

Anderson and the other associates explained to the Board that several other convenience stores in Tewksbury sell beer and wine. "Market Stop in Tewksbury provides milk and bread, dog and cat food, as well as beer and wine. Hobart's, Sam's and Sullivan's also provide the same," Anderson said. White Hen Pantry will be primarily a food establishment and the beer and wine would be convenience items for their customers.

"We recently granted a full liquor license to a store in that Plaza. You've impressed me as a person who'll provide a good service to the community but at this point in time, I don't think it's appropriate to grant another license to serve beer and wine," said Selectmen Joan Dunlevy. The Board agreed with Dunlevy's opinion and denied the application.

Sprint representatives appeared once again before the Board on Tuesday. In an continuation of the meeting held June 17th, Sprint received unanimous approval to go ahead with their erection of a service pole on Richard E. Griffin Way and an antenna array on the water tower on Astle St.

All the questions the Board members had from the previous meeting with Sprint regarding health and safety issues around the tower and antenna arrays were answered. Sprint representatives discussed the Board's concerns and the Board, basing their decision on this discussion and written information received from the Department of Public Health and the Harvard School of Public Health, approved Sprint's non-ionizing radiation and other information Sprint offered a motion to send a letter of approval to the State was made on an application by Little Italy for a Keno license.

The Board approved a change of management at Applebee's and welcomed Lita Barr Hogan of Londonderry, NH as the new manager.

The Board reminded the community that the Special Town Meeting was coming up July 21st.

Cutting ice on Silver Lake

by Capt. Larz

WILMINGTON - A picture appeared in the Town Crier on April 23 showing a new bridge across a small stream running from Silver Lake to Lubbers Brook. The bridge was being put in place by Wilmington town employees. A truck was standing on what was, 75 years ago, the site of the Walter Hale ice houses.

The first deed for the area of that small brook was termed "Pearse Deed" and dated 1722. The ditch seems to have been dug that year for the purpose of providing additional water to Lubbers Brook. A mill, near that brook, and later two were powered by the water, upstream from Glen Road.

The first reference of which this writer knows was called "the Rub Lot," and dated December 22, 1722. Possibly it could have been 10 or 20 acres but it probably was less than 10.

Deacon Jeames Tompson of Woburn (his name was often spelled by others James Thompson) moved to the Land of Goshen, the northerly part of Woburn, in 1720. His home still exists on Main Street at the town line between Wilmington and Tewksbury. In 1720 that town line was between Billerica and Woburn.

The Town of Wilmington has a sign on the house which shows a different date. Seventeen-twenty seems to be year in which it was constructed.

When Wilmington became a town in 1730 Deacon Thompson and Deacon John Harnden of North Wilmington shared the teaching duties in the first school, which had been constructed about 1720 near the present corner of Butters Row and Main Street.

In those days what is now called Silver Lake was called Sandy Pond. There was a small stream from the pond which flowed down what is now Williams Avenue. The early settlers constructed a dam there, using small rocks, to shut off the water. The water was thus diverted into Rub Lot, to provide power for the two mills which were constructed on Lubbers Brook, upstream from Glen Road.

The small stones which were used in making of the dam can still be seen, on the "upstream" side of Main Street at Williams Avenue. They are the only stones to be seen in Silver Lake, the ancient Sandy Pond.

About 1870 ice houses were constructed on the west side of Sandy Pond, where the Wilmington town beach is today. The Union Ice Company of Boston was constructing ice houses in any place near Boston where a railroad running to that city passed a lake or pond. Horn Pond, in Woburn also got some ice houses about that time. The ice houses at Horn Pond were still in a sales operation in the 1970s.

Seventeen ice houses were constructed on the west side of Sandy Pond, which got a new name about 1875, Silver Lake. Real estate speculators and others were probably responsible.

Two larger homes were constructed about that time, one on Lake Street and the other at the corner of Glen Road and Main Street.

The Lake Street house is westerly of Silver Lake Avenue. It was built for John Wild of the Union Ice Company. John is to be remembered by his deep bass profundo voice which could be heard on the occasion of joint singing.

Peter Neilson built the foundation of the Walter Hale home on Cross St.

His office, at the ice house, was at the high point of the runway which was used to lift ice from the lake. From the front window John could see everything which was happening on the ice.

Every fall John had the weeds growing in Silver Lake mowed, at points where it was shallow, as for instance, near the "Melzar" home, on the northwest side. He apparently did not wish to deliver ice to the customers in which weeds were to be found. "Pure Ice," for him was more than a mere slogan.

What Horace Caswell did for the Union Ice Company this writer does not know. He came down from New Brunswick, on invitation from the company. He died in 1917.

There were many men in Wilmington of the Eames family. One, about a century ago had a small coal yard. He then built a pier into Silver Lake across the street from the Caswell home. From that pier he conducted an ice business. Nothing has been said about an ice house, but there must have been one. That pier was finally sold, after some years, to Walter Hale.

Walter was a young fellow, said to be born in Lawrence, who grew up in the Chestnut Street area, near Butters Row. This writer has a picture of a class in the South School dating about 1880 of which Walter's face is one that can be seen.

Christian and Stina Neilson were Danish immigrants who were living in a Scandinavian colony in East Woburn. They wanted a farm, and sometime about 1880 they found one, of about 100 acres, on both sides of Chestnut Street in Wilmington. In a sense one can say they became neighbors to the family of which Walter Hale was a member.

Peter Neilson, brother of Christian, crossed the ocean in 1893, and also lived on Chestnut Street. His first job, (in which he learned to speak English) was working for a street car company which was laying track up Shawsheen Avenue to Billerica.

Of course the Neilson brothers got to know Walter Hale, who lived less than half a mile away.

Walter, sometime about the end of the Spanish American War purchased some land, between Wilmington's Main Street and Lowell Street, today part of the Yentile farm. He constructed a home about 1900, on what is known today as Cross Street.

Peter Neilson was a Danish trained mason, who got a lot of what can be called "Irish" experience when he joined the stonemason's union in Woburn. Men like Woburn's Dinny McLaughlin were artists when it came to the laying of weathered field stones. Dinny and Peter often worked together.

Walter Hale hired Peter to do the stonework around the home he was building on Cross Street. For Walter it must be said, he got a bargain. The stonework on the Yentile home is worth a second look from any passerby. Large weathered field stones, all fitted together nicely.

Someday, maybe, this writer will make up a list of "Peter Neilson Cellars" and other weathered stonework in Wilmington.

Walter Hale sold his farm on Cross Street sometime about 1920. He had his mind set on a business on Clark Street, owned by Fred Eames, a member of an old Wilmington family.

Fred had bought about five acres of land on Clark Street, where the old "Wildcat" railroad went northerly to join the Boston-Lawrence Railroad in Andover.

He had established a business of selling coal, this in a town where many people heated their homes by burning wood.

He also established a business of selling ice. Fred Eames purchased half an acre of land across Main Street from the home of Horace Caswell. He built a pier, and a small icehouse, northerly of the Rub Lot brook.

Somehow Walter Hale and Fred Eames got to talking business. Possibly Fred Eames wanted to leave Wilmington. He sold out to Walter Hale and left town. Walter became the owner of two businesses with one purchase, sometime after 1920.

Walter at that time, it seems had the only coal business in Wilmington, and the only ice business which was not shipping ice to Boston.

He did not waste any time. He soon had a business which served the local residents.

He built a substantial home on Clark Street, near the railroad. In back he kept his horses and wagons. Walter soon had a good ice and coal business.

In those days 25 cents an hour, for a casual employee, was good pay. Walter's employees, in delivering ice, earned $2 a day, and sometimes they were able to quit early! The work of delivering ice has to be described.

Ice was delivered from insulated wagons, drawn by a horse, sometimes two. The employees would show up at Walter's ice house, beside Silver Lake at about seven o'clock. Ice, which had been cut the winter before, would slide down a chute to the loading platform.

Up to a dozen men would be handy, waiting for their turn at the loading platform. They were a fun seeking, noisy group. Employees in one of the three ice houses would slide ice down to the waiting wagons. Sometimes two dozen wagons would be loaded, to be driven to many places in Wilmington and Tewksbury.

There were no electric refrigerators in those days. Every house had, however, an ice refrigerator, somewhere near the back door.

Every house had an "ice" card, of heavy, yellow paper. It would be displayed from the front window. One side up - five cents. The next side up meant 10 cents worth. The third side was for fifteen cents, and somewhat rarely the fourth side would be up, which meant 20 cents worth of ice.

Generally the man who delivered the ice had a rubber sheet over his shoulders to keep his clothing dry.

When loading ice in the early morning there would be a lot of banter. The nickname for Walter was "Deacon." He didn't like it.

Walter was affiliated with the Methodist Church, but he was not a Deacon. "Don't call me Deacon," he would say - "I'm not a Deacon, I'm only a trustee!"

"Okay, Deke!"

Across from the Caswell house Walter had three ice houses, which nearly filled up the area between Main Street and the water of Silver Lake. Fire was their fate, more than once. Peter Neilson laid the stonewall right beside the lake, for one of the ice houses.

A boy who lived in a Grove Avenue home was a person who had set fire to several homes. This writer's younger sister remarked on it, more than once. No attention seemed to be paid to those remarks.

One day, about the third of July that boy set fire to one of Hale's ice houses. The writer was in North Reading, and he saw the pillar of smoke, from about five miles away. It had been set by the boy of whom the writer's sister had spoken.

The "back" line of Walter's property was that ancient ditch. The "front" line was where the lake and Main Street were joined together. There was no wasted space!

One can say there was fun when it came time to load the wagons. There was also a lot of fun, each winter, when it came time to cut ice. It started about the middle of January, after a couple of "deep" freezes.

Walter Hale, and Christian and Peter Neilson would go out on the ice. With them would be an employee with an ice drill. On the shore would be 15 or more people, anxious for jobs, watching to find out how thick the ice was.

If there was enough ice, one of those three men would hold up his hand, and joy would be seen on the faces of the men who were waiting for a job. Generally the cutting of ice took more than a week, sometimes two.

The ice on the lake would be marked off so that the ice would be cut properly. The ice would be cut properly into "floes" four cakes wide and about 10 or 12 long, each cake about (say) 30 inches square. A horse and driver would be employed to cut into the ice, but not for the full depth.

Then one man with an ice saw would cut off the floes, and other employees would split the floes. Eventually long ice floes, one cake wide and a dozen long would be pushed to the ice "lift," or elevator, where Christian Neilson was in charge. He would "shove" each cake into the elevator, to be lifted up into the ice houses.

The workday was short of eight hours, because those days were the shortest of the year. But everyone enjoyed it, for 25 cents an hour.

Peter and Christian Neilson, being, one could say, bosses, were paid twice as much.

And no one, in those days, knew anything about the "Rub Lot" of the 1700s.

Fred Eames was moving from Wilmington, a member of a family which had helped the Yankees of Woburn move into the Land of Goshen, back about 1660. Fred Eames had owned five acres of land on Clark Street, which he sold to Walter Hale.

There were a few small sheds in which Fred kept his horses. There was a side track from the railroad to Andover, called the "Wildcat." That small side track was the place where Fred Eames had the railroad cars parked, when he unloaded coal. Employees would unload coal with a shovel, or so it has been said.

Walter purchased the five acres, and the pier at Silver Lake. He promptly started to improve things.

The first thing he did was to dig a hole under the spot where the loaded coal cars were parked, on the side track. Then he hired Peter Neilson to line that hole with concrete and an electric motor arrangement, to move the coal out of the hole and into the coal wagons.

No more did the laborers shovel coal by hand.

Walter also put in a large truck scale, were incoming and outgoing trucks could be weighed. He and his wife, the former Ada Frances Carter, could weight the incoming trucks, and the outgoing trucks, and know how much coal had been loaded.

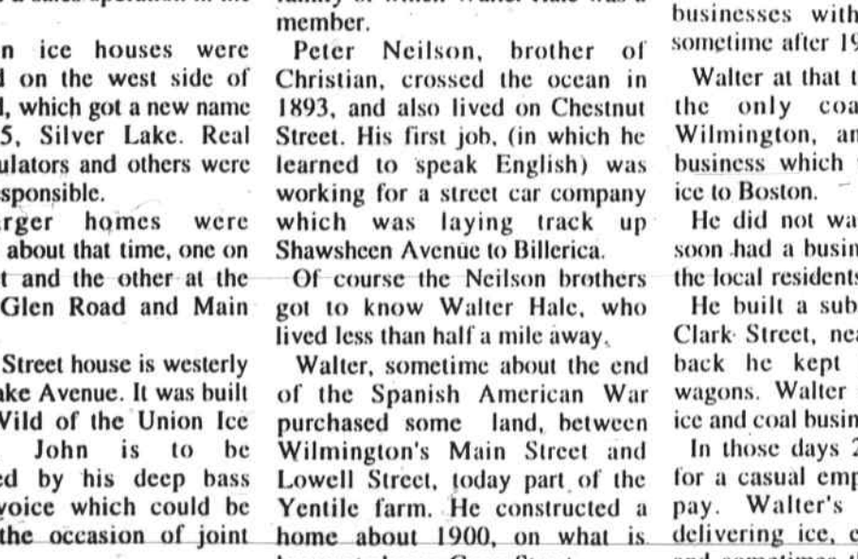

In 1920 Walter was elected Wilmington's Collector of Taxes, a position which he held for two years.

The Walter Hale home on Clark Street was constructed later than the Cross St. home.

Peter Neilson, mason

In 1926 he was elected a member of the Board of Selectmen, and in 1930 he became the chairman. He was a well liked person in the Town of Wilmington.

It was about that time that he purchased a large farm near Lake Winnepasaukee in New Hampshire. The family moved to that state.

The only member of the Hale family, after that to live in Wilmington was Walter's son Jerry (a nickname). He lived in Wilmington, at several addresses for a number of years.

Walter and Ada moved to Florida, about the time of World War II. They lived in the north-central part of that state in Mount Dora for about half a dozen years before they passed away.

If your wound hasn't started healing in a month, it's not healing. It's getting worse.

A bandage can hide a wound, but it can't make it go away. The fact is, a wound that takes more than a month to heal runs the risk of infection, gangrene, and even amputation. The answer isn't just to wrap another bandage around it. The answer is to get help now.

The Wound Care Center® has a dedicated staff of doctors and nurses who are experts in wound care. We offer a unique and focused program of treatment that will be matched to your individual needs.

If you have a wound that won't heal, ask your doctor about the Wound Care Center or call us directly.

Adopt-a-Grandmother program builds confidence

WILMINGTON - Dr. Carol Golub, Executive Director of the Wilmington Family Counseling Service, Inc., gave an invited address at the Home Life Conference of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of Massachusetts at Stonehill College. Anne Buzzell, President of the Wilmington Women's Club, invited Dr. Golub to speak about women's development and how the agency's Adopt-a-Grandmother Program is designed to build positive self-concepts in adolescent girls.

Attending the state wide conference in North Easton in addition to President Anne Buzzell were Wilmington Women's Club members Helene Ahern, Evelyn Gibbs, and Norenne Markey.

In her talk, Dr. Golub reminded the participants of the strong message still given to young children by the Cinderella fairy tale of prince charming rescuing the kind and dutiful young Cinderella so that they could live happily ever after together. Needless to say, Dr. Golub stressed in our present society women need to set their own goals and not wait for the right man to come along and make a life for them.

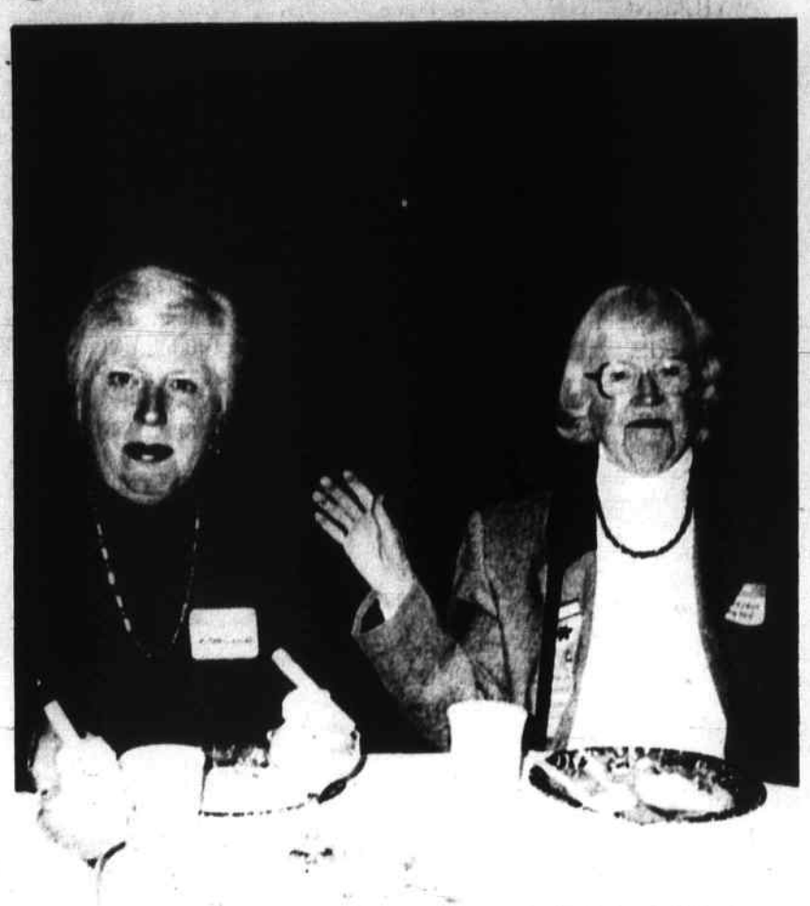

The sex symbol image of women portrayed by the media exerts a strong influence on young women about women being valued for the way they look.Unfortunately, Dr. Golub emphasized that not all women are genetically the same, and many find the media images unattainable regardless of their will power. If they do not have blond hair, blue eyes and fit into a size five dress, in many cases, they are left with negative feelings of self worth.

Although girls talk earlier and learn to read and master the tasks of elementary school easier, too often their academic success drops off in junior high to be replaced by other priorities like friends - both girl and boy. As a result, Dr. Golub reported many adolescent girls lose focus and do not fulfill their potentials.

Dr. Golub encouraged the Women's Clubs throughout the state to develop programs which build self-esteem in adolescent girls and encourage them to make the transition to adult women with the desire and confidence to pursue their goals, to compete without fear of rejection, and to make choices that enrich their lives without succumbing to peer pressure or the fear of losing relationships.

Those are some of the goals of the multi generational Adopt-a-Grandmother Program currently underway with 20 seventh grade participants from the North and West Intermediate Schools who are paired with elderly residents at the town's two nursing homes. Through the program the girls are provided role models of many generations - the elderly nursing home residents, professional women such as the activity director, nurses, WFCS psychologist, and the high school peer leader. Meeting in a group after their time with the grandmothers, the girls have a chance to learn more about themselves, share their ideas with each other, and try out leadership skills.

Topics discussed include self image, peer pressure, substance abuse, teen pregnancy, dating violence etc. The heart of the program, however, is the two way street of the girls helping the grandmothers and the grandmothers helping them in return by taking an interest in them. The old adage that in helping others we help ourselves applies to both groups so that both the young and the old come away with positive feelings about themselves.

DR CAROL GOLUB and ANNE BUZZELL, Wilmington women's Club President attended the General Federation of Women's Clubs conference at Stonehill College.

The Adopt -a- Grandmother program is truly a community based program involving the joint efforts of the Wilmington Family Counseling service, the Wilmington Public Schools, and the Wilmington Woods and Woodbriar of Wilmington nursing facilities. In addition, funding comes from local resources like the Wilmington Women's Club, the School/Business Partnership, the Kiwanis, Analog Devices, Textron, and a Governor's Alliance against Drugs grant of the schools.

"We as women tend to value relationships more than achievement. It is one of our strengths; however, society also needs the contribution of our talents and skills. We need to encourage young women to pursue their goals through adolescence and not let their voices be silenced," Dr. Golub concluded. "Locally our Adopt-a-Grandmother Program is one attempt to give adolescent girls the confidence and self esteem to do just that."

Summer fun at the Museum of Science

BOSTON - Want to travel the world without the jet lag? Like to take in the wonders of the planet without risking lost luggage? The Mugar Omni Theater at the Museum of Science has just the ticket; the Travel The World Omni Film Festival.

In celebration of the Mugar Omni Theater's 10th anniversary, the Museum of Science is bringing Boston the world. From ancient Mexico, the sands of Kuwait and snows of Antarctica, to the wilds of Africa and the depths of the Grand Canyon, movie-goers will experience some of the most interesting, beautiful and awe-inspiring places on the planet.

The Travel the World Omni Film Festival, which is sponsored by Orient Cruise Lines, will feature three of the most popular IMAX films in the Omni Theater's 10 year history and two never before seen in Boston films. Returning to the Omni Theater for the festival are Africa: The Serengeti, Grand Canyon and Antarctica. Making their Boston debuts at the festival will be Fires of Kuwait and Mystery of the Maya.

Enveloped by its 76 foot high domed screen and 84 speaker, 27,000 watt sound system, over eight million visitors have thrilled and delighted to the Mugar Omni Theater's unique immersive experience in the 10 years since its opening.

"The Mugar Omni Theater has proven to be one of the most consistently popular places at the Museum," notes Museum of Science President and Director David W. Ellis. "It takes people places and shows them things they might otherwise never have an opportunity to see or learn about and does it in a way no other theater experience can equal," he added. The Travel the World Omni Film Festival underscores this point with its lineup of all time favorites and unique new features.

AMERICAN FIREFIGHTER Joe Bowden Sr. studies a mountainous coke fire. The rock hard coke must be blasted away before the fire itself can be tackled. Fires of Kuwait heats up the summer Travel the World Omni Film Festival now showing at the Museum of Science.

By jeep, helicopter and hot air balloon, Africa: The Serengeti takes viewers on a magnificent journey tracking one of the world's most amazing wildlife spectacles - the seasonal migration of over one million wildebeest across the grasslands of Tanzania's Serengeti Park.

Grand Canyon offers stunning visuals and fascinating insight into the history and prehistory of this amazing natural wonder. Taking full advantage of the Imax format, Grand Canyon takes viewers through some of the most striking landscapes in the country, culminating in a wild white water raft trip down the canyon's relentless sculptor - the mighty Colorado River.

It's the coldest, driest and highest of the world's continents, and Antarctica shows it's also one of the most beautiful and fascinating. Penguins, seals, whales and a host of other hearty residents cling to their niche in a delicately balanced ecosystem. Antarctica is classic Omni Theater viewing, exquisite imagery with solid science.

Unique in the festival, Mystery of the Maya, travels back through time to explore a millennium of Mayan history. Mystery of the Maya blends archaeological excavation, dramatic recreations and archival materials to tell the story of one of the most advanced early civilizations in the Americas.

Nominated for an Academy Award as Best Feature Documentary, Fires of Kuwait is a visually arresting account of the remarkably resourceful efforts by teams from around the world to extinguish some 600 blazing, gushing oil well fires left burning in the wake of the 1991 Gulf War. Journeying to the black heart of the infernos, shoulder to shoulder with men and women working to extinguish skyrocketing walls of torrid flame Fires of Kuwait offers a visual experience that even the best of Hollywood's special effects would be hard pressed to equal.

"In choosing the films for this festival, we wanted to bring together a selection that would be representative of what IMAX does best: giving people a first hand feel for, and understanding of, some of the most interesting places and subjects in the world around us," said Cherie Rivers, Manager of Omni Theater Programs.

Over the course of the past 10 years, the Mugar Omni Theater has exhibited 24 feature films that have explored topics ranging from the Mountain Gorillas of Uganda to volcanoes, flight, whales and movie specials effects.

The Travel of World Omni Film Festival is sponsored by Orient Cruise Lines and runs through mid-September. All five features will be run daily on a rotating basis throughout the festival's engagement. Regular admission to the Mugar Omni Theater is $7.50 for adults and $5.50 for children (3-14) and seniors (65 and over). Same day discounts on multiple ticket purchases are available to facilitate cinematic globe trotting. Tickets for the first feature purchased are regular price, and are just $4 for each additional feature for viewing that same day.

To order tickets by phone or inquire about show times, call (617) 723-2500. The Mugar Omni Theater is handicapped accessible.

"Oriental Flair" most popular work at show

WILMINGTON - For the 17th consecutive year, the Wilmington Council for the Arts has presented the work of area artists for the enjoyment of a large group of interested people. In a lovely atmosphere on the bright sunny days of June 28 and 29, the Arts center was open to this annual event. This year for the first time, the excitement began on Friday evening when the artists were invited to a reception with a guest in order to meet fellow artists and preview the excellent work of others.

This year's professional judges were Jean Colt Hooper, Joan Rademacher and Caleb Stone. Ms. Hooper is a Marblehead artist who works in oils, watercolors and pen and ink concentrating mainly on marine paintings. Her memberships include: American Society of Marine Artists, the Copley Society and Marblehead Art Association. She is also represented by the Lyford Cay Gallery in Nassau with her Bahamian paintings.

Joan Rademacher of Methuen specializes in watercolors. She is a member of the North Shore Arts Association, The Concord Art Association and the Andover Artists Guild. She has won many awards and frequently judges at competitions and demonstrates her painting techniques for art groups. Joan is represented in many corporate collections in N.H. and MA. as well as private collections here and abroad.

Caleb Stone of Methuen was born in Rockport where he started painting at age seven. He works in the media of oils, watercolors and pastels enjoying scenes of New England but did at one time travel throughout the west doing local views.

He has received several scholarships and spent three months in Europe on a painting trip producing over 100 works. He judges and demonstrates his ability. Mr. Stone will teach in Essex this summer and The Wilmington Arts Council is looking forward to one of his demonstrations in the Arts Center soon.

The John D. Brooks Memorial Award is given by Council members to a Wilmington artist who exhibits yearly and who shows much progress and promise. This year's recipient is Ruth Camber. Mrs. Camber attends the council's art classes throughout the year and attends its out-of-doors spring class.

The most popular painting was "Oriental Flair" by Leda Sullivan.

The watercolor category is always the most popular entry. The first prize went to Greg Phillips and his rendering of "Essex Marshes," second to Neil Clapp's "Sugar Bowl and Creamer with Spoons," and third to Louise Anderson for "Splash." Honorable mentions were given to Jane Crane, Madeleine DeSesa, Elizabeth Douglass, Barbara Gesin, David Maison and Susan O'Briant.

Winners in oil were: first, Leda Sullivan for "Oriental Flair," second, Rita Strow's "Old Irish Farmer," third, Elizabeth Bichan's "In the Old Barn." Honorable mentions were awarded to "West Village, N.Y.C. by Marguerite Elia and "Still Life with Bittersweet" by Barbara Groom.

Mixed Media awards were taken by Lexie Donahue for "A Few of My Favorite Things," first place; "Day's Work is Done" by Barbara Glines and "Purple Paradise" by Ruth Laider. Honorable mentions were: "From the Forest Primeval," Barbara Gesin, and "The Goddess" by Hinda Paquette and Gina Cucchiara.

Ruth Camber's "Vermont Reflections" placed first in the photography competition, Linda Molloy second for "Stargazer," and Barett Bacall's "Silver Moon" third.

Students from the council's classes are judged separately with the following results: First, Jane Crane and her "Lakeside," second "Onions" by Carol Wilson, and third "Oh To Be in England" by Ruth Camber.

The Council wishes to thank all those who participated for their cooperation in making this event such a success each year.

TEWKSBURY - Local Realtor, Phyllis Ford, Carlson Real Estate-Better Homes & Gardens, 1900 Main St., Tewksbury, received her realtor pin from the Eastern Middlesex Association of Realtors President, Sharon M. Kelley-Parella, CRS,GRI, at the Association's recent business meeting.

MAKING YOUR DREAM HOME COME TRUE
Your first child is on the way, and you are outgrowing your small apartment. The time seems right to seriously consider buying a house, but you are afraid you don't have enough cash. Don't worry! Realtors are experienced in helping first-time buyers locate the financial resources to make such a move. The first step is to sit down with an agent who is familiar with available loan programs. You will need money for the down payment and your income must be high enough to meet the leader's qualifying standards. We may be able to minimize the amount of cash needed with a little help from either the sellers or the loan company. You may be able to include some of the closing costs in your mortgage or the sellers might consider a lease/purchase agreement which would allow you to rent for a few months while accumulating the funds you need. If you are ready to buy your first home, let you Realtor assist you in making your dream a reality.

DISCOUNTS FOR YOUNG DRIVERS
QUESTION: Is it possible for young drivers to get auto insurance discounts?
ANSWER: If you have a young driver in your family who should be included in your auto insurance, you may get a premium discount if he or she has completed an approved driver education course.
If the young driver is attending a school or college more than 100 miles from your home and living on campus, you may qualify for a discount.
There are other discounts for you to check out. Do you own more than one car? You can save money if you insure them all under one policy. It makes sense to discuss your situation with your agent. You might be pleasantly surprised.
YOUNG DRIVERS can qualify for auto insurance discounts. Why not check it out?

Wilmington Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - We extend our grateful thanks to the Wilmington Lions Club, not only for paying for the 110 holiday catered meals delivered to shut in seniors last Friday. They pleased us very much by having three members of the club join our volunteers as they went from house to house, lifting the spirits of these ill or disabled seniors confined to their homes most of the time.

Thanks again

Our thanks again to Jim Buckley, Tom Pazyra and Lou DiRupo of the Lions Club, Lorraine Beaupre, Pat Bolton, Mary Boylen, Ruth Curtis, Edith and George Dahl, Helen and Jim Durkee, Bob Ford, Minnie and Don Kirby, Betty and Bill Maher, Marilyn and Joe McCarthy, Bill Nee, Frank Ouellette, Joe Paglia, Martha and Frank Ratto, Janet and Rudi Schultz, Marilyn West and Barbara White.

Our thanks to the members of the craft class. They worked very hard, to complete 110 beautiful 4th of July holiday craft gifts that were delivered with the meals, to the delight of the recipients.

Free dental care

We have been informed by the Mass. Department of Medical Security, that low income senior citizens may be able to receive free dental care. Seniors are automatically eligible if they receive assistance under Emergency Aid to Elders, and Disabled (EAED). Others with incomes below 200 percent of the federal poverty level will qualify. For more information call the Division of Health Care Finance and Policy, 617-451-5330.

If you are over 65 and have limited assets and income you should qualify for Medicaid under Mass Health (formerly the welfare office). The income amount to qualify for Medicaid now is $678 a month and assets of no more than $2000. Your home or care are necessities of life and are not included. Remember if you qualify for Medicaid, you qualify for free medical and dental care, with transportation coverage in most cases free, also free nursing home coverage, fuel, low income elder housing and food stamps. For more information on qualification for Medicaid call the Mass. Health Service Center, 1-800-841-2900, or speak to your doctor or dentist.

Seniors a little over income, with a large number of medical and dentist bills, and no insurance coverage for either, for help should seek it by calling 1-800-342-8747.

Many of the universities have reasonable dental plans provided by advanced students, supervised by faculty members. Boston University has such a plan; call 617-638-4700. Harvard University has such a plan, call 617-432-1434. Tufts University has a plan, call 617-636-6968.

Students working in these plans will be receiving their dental degree this year and are interning with dentists throughout the state as part of their studies.

One must remember, Medicare will not cover dental care unless it involves surgery, such as bone removal, fractured jaw, or any other type of surgery required by the dentist. If you have a question on your dental problem, call Medicare B coverage at 1-800-882-1228 before going back to your dentist.

Activity programs

Monday, July 7, exercise class from 10 to 11 a.m., whist starting at noon, art class from 1 to 3 p.m.; Tuesday, nutrition class from 9:30 to noon; Wednesday, exercise class from 10 to 11 a.m., craft class 9 to 12, Shine volunteer starting at 9, will answer questions on all types of insurance coverage including Medicare.

Those with bills they do not understand should ask Barbara to take a look at them. Perhaps she can help.

Sing-a-long will begin at noon. Gill Smith will be at the piano playing the songs we all know best. He has agreed to play songs the seniors love to sing, but he loves to see a big group singing with him. What better way to spend a hot summer afternoon than in the air conditioned function room singing along with other seniors?

Thursday shop class is held from 9 a.m. to noon, ceramic class from 9 a.m. to noon, sewing, knitting and crocheting class from 9 a.m. to noon, dance class from 1 to 2:30 p.m., nurse blood pressure clinic from 1:30; Friday, exercise class from 10 to 11 a.m. and bingo from 1 to 3 p.m.

Major League Baseball

Celebrations begin as All-Star action heats up

by Stephen Repsys

Had the defense not have been so sound and not have thrown out the tying run at the plate in the top of the sixth inning in their first game held on Monday night, then perhaps the Wilmington Major League All-Star Baseball team would not be playing North Reading this Friday at Rotary Park.

Tuesday's nights 8-4 loss to Weston might have eliminated them from further play. Lucky or not, this team is talented, this team is fun to watch and they have played two tremendous ball games thus far.

"We had our chance to go ahead [on Tuesday night] but Weston made two nice defensive plays to end the rally," said head coach Bill Wallace. "Our team just didn't get the timely hit or the lucky bounces."

Weston struck first scoring three runs in the first. An error, two singles, and the big blow of the inning a bases clearing double put Westin ahead 3-0.

Wilmington was able to close the gap in the second. David Velardo walked, and Dan O'Connell doubled to left. The runners were driven home on John McMahon's double to right center to make it 3-2.

Weston struck again for a run in the third. A double, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice brought home another run on a close play at the plate, as the runner just slid under the catcher's tag.

Circumstances allowed Wilmington to tie the score after three innings. Craig Osgood reached base on an error. David Rappoli walked and Billy Sinoploi was hit by a pitch to put a runner at each station. Greg Buck earned an rbi by walking to allow a run to score. Likewise, Velardo followed suit and the score was etched at four.

"That inning seemed like the turning point," said Wallace.

Weston was and that was apparently the difference as Wilmington never scored again.

In the fourth inning, Weston went ahead for good on a single and two consecutive doubles to make it 6-4.

Insurance runs were added by Weston in the fifth. Weston added a two-run homer to deep center to make it 8-4.

Wallace remains optimistic as his team is one loss away from being eliminated from the tournament.

"If we play heads up baseball and play good defense we should do well," said Wallace, whose team returns home to Rotary Park on Friday at 5:45 against North Reading.

Softball All-Stars lose first game, play Thursday

by JAMIE POTE

With about half of the team made up of talented, but inexperienced eleven year olds in an 11-12 year-old all-star team, the Wilmington Major Softball All-Star team showed their inexperience in their first game on Monday night.

However, the team is young, all of them are all-stars, they are having fun and they are giving it their all and that is what is most important.

"The kids hung in there, they played hard," said head coach Mike Sorrentino, who saw his team lose its first game 16-8 to Wakefield at their place on Monday night. "The team we played was very good, they really knew how to run the bases and they played a great game. The biggest difference is we don't have a windmill pitcher like they do, we have pitchers who throw strikes. But, I'm proud of the team, they did well. It was a good learning experience for us."

Now in the loser's bracket, the Cats will be home Thursday night against Woburn who lost to Stoneham, who ironically was the team who eliminated Wilmington last year.

"I like [coaching the all-stars]. It's obviously a different level of play than I'm used to, but I like it. But it's tough because we only were able to get three practices in and I know now that we will be more prepared on Thursday then we were for Monday's game," Sorrentino said.

Against Wakefield, Stacy Comer, Brittany Irwin and Jenn Gillis led the way with the bats combining for eight hits, while, Lauren Crowley (centerfield), Gina Ranno (pitcher) and Kristine Fraser (left field) were the defensive standouts.

Wilmington's game on Thursday will be at Rotary Park beginning at 5:45.

Local running back star gets named to All-American squad

by JAMIE POTE

At age 13, Mark Boudreau, a high honor seventh grade student and a terrific three-sport athlete in two different towns (Tewksbury and Wilmington), decided he had enough with after lunch recesses and learning how to dissect frogs. He wanted the big time.

About four years before he should be considering college, Mark, a Tewksbury native and a Wilmington Pop Warner football player, decided that he wanted to test himself with the Scholastic Aptitude Test, which are usually taken during the junior year of high school. And if any student scores an 800 on that test, that is average, a 1600 is perfect. Mark, just finishing his first-year tour of junior high school, scored an 1030.

That, as well as being a deer-like "can't catch me" running back, a terrific all-around baseball player which is proven by the multiple all-star teams he has very successfully participated with, and most importantly, just being an outstanding young human being are the reasons why Mark has gone big time. Mark was chosen as one of 21 other 13-year olds out of 37,000 applicants to be named to the First Team All-American Scholar Pop Warner team.

"I brought in my report card and signed the forms last year and nothing happened, but when I got the letter in the mail saying that I was in the top one percent, I couldn't believe it, I just said 'wow'," said Boudreau, now 14 years old, who is currently a reserve on the 14+15 year old all-star baseball team.

As well as bring named to the First Team All-American Pop Warner team, Mark also got a $500 scholarship to go towards college for the prestigious award.

"Actually I just found out [on Tuesday] that there were only eleven scholarships given out - I still can't believe that I got one of them," Boudreau said.

Boudreau commented often during his interview about his friend Jay Wagstaff, who for the second year in a row was named to the Second Team All-American Pop Warner team which is also quite an accomplishment. Both of those guys are well deserving of the award not only for scoring so many touchdowns in the Wilmington Pop Warner League, but most importantly for their hard work, determination and will to do well in the classroom which comes before anything.

"My Dad has always told me that if I ever wanted to play sports, that I had to do well in school and I had to keep up my grades all of the time. And I have listened to him," said Mark of his father Jim, the longtime race car phanatic who holds several records in that sport.

Of the 37,000 Pop Warner student-athletes who apply each year for this award, less than one percent of the applicants are named to the first team and less than five percent of the applicants are named to the second team. In order to at least fill out the forms, a student-athlete must have an overall average in academics above 93, not to mention the on the field recognition.

Along with being named to the first squad and getting the scholarship, Mark was also invited to take part in the 37th annual awards gala night that took place a short while ago in DisneyLand, but due to Mark's very busy baseball schedule of playing for three baseball teams including the A.A.U. Mariners, which is the best 14 year olds from the New England Area, the Boudreau family couldn't make it out to see Mickey Mouse.

This fall Mark will be a freshman at Tewksbury Memorial High School where he will play football, basketball and baseball. Mark hasn't spent even one day as a student at TMHS, and already he has a list of accomplishments that would look great on a senior student's application to college.

Perhaps Mark has hit the big time, in school, in sports and in life.

Major League team had it planned all the way

by Stephen Repsys

Fundamentals are probably as big of a key in winning in the game of baseball as is pitching, defense and/or coaching. And for the Wilmington Major League All-Star Baseball squad, fundamentals earned them a first round victory in dramatic fashion over Wakefield in their District 13 debut on Monday night at Rotary Park.

Wilmington was leading 6-3 and Wakefield had the bases loaded with two outs in their last at-bat. Andy Foss came up to the plate against relief pitcher Dan O'Connell. Foss ripped a double to deep center and before anyone knew it two runs came in as Wakefield had runners going as fast as they could all over the diamond. As the ball was being retrieved by Wilmington centerfielder John McMahon, Wakefield tried to score the runner from first base to tie the game. In a display of perfect execution, McMahon hit Craig Osgood, the cut-off man, who threw a bullet to the catcher Sean Layton, who tagged out what would have been the tying run run at the plate to keep Wilmington's victory intact at 6-5.

"That was a nice throw by Osgood and a nice tag by the [Layton]. That's just how we practiced it," joked head coach Bill Wallace.

Up until the last inning, it was all Wilmington as they were leading 6-1. Starting pitcher Bill Sinopoli pitched five terrific innings, but it was obvious he ran out of gas trying to complete the game. Sinopoli gave up a lead-off homer to James Puccio in the sixth which cleared the centerfield fence to make it 6-2. The next batter Matt Sallese singled up the middle. Pete Caroll struck out swinging to be the first out of the inning. Catcher Todd Sauca reached first on a fielder's choice, eliminating Sallese at second. Pitcher Mark DiNocco singled to put runners on first and second with two outs and that forced Wallace to take out Sinopoli.

"I wanted to see him [Sinopoli] get a complete game but he was getting a little tired," Wallace said.

In came Dan O'Connell, who earned a save the hard way. O'Connell walked his first batter to load the bases. A wild pitch allowed a run to score, closing the gap to 6-3. O'Connell walked the next batter to load the bases again and that's when Wilmington won the game in exciting fashion with the double to deep center field.

Wilmington got out of the gate quickly. In the first inning Layton walked and was sacrificed to second by Osgood. First baseman Dave Rappoli double to deep left to score Layton to put Wilmington up 1-0. A wild pitch enabled Rappoli to move to third. Sinopoli's groundout allowed Rappoli to score Wilmington's second run. Greg Buck doubled to deep right to continue the rally. Dave Velardo scorched a double to center field but a miscue by the right-fielder allowed Buck to cross the plate to put Wilmington ahead 3-0.

Wilmington worked their way out of a big jam in the third. With one out Andy Foss walked. Shortstop Bobby Donahue bunted for a base hit to put runners at first and second with one out. The next batter, Chris Leone, walked to load up the bases. Sinopoli escaped the inning unscathed as he struck out two consecutive batters, one looking and one swinging.

"[Sinopoli] pitched well. He gave up three walks and had seven strikeouts," Wallace said.

Wallace's team came alive offensively in the third. Already up 3-0, Rappoli and Buck both walked and were brought home on Velardo's double down the right field line. Velardo later scored on a wild pitch, just evading the catcher's tag to score the eventual winning run.

Twenty-Four local athletes begin Bay State Games next week

by JAMIE POTE

The 1997 Summer Bay State games is set to begin another season with some of the best athletes around showing off their athletic skills with opening ceromonies set for Friday, July 17th.

Twenty-four Wilmington athletes as well as a coach will take part in this Olympic-style festival that has had over 100,000 athletes take part since 1982.

This 16th annual event will open with festivities on the 17th at the Fleet Center at 7:00 p.m. The games itself will be held July 16-26 at UMass-Boston, Boston College, Boston University, Harvard University, M.I.T., Wentworth Institute of Technology, Devens Field Combine and the Reggie Lewis Track and Field Athletic Center in Roxbury. All sporting events, other than opening ceremonies (which are $5 each and can be purchased by calling 617-391-1196) are free and open to the public.

During the seven day period, 23 different sports will be offered. Wrestling is the most popular sport in Wilmington as 13 of the 22 Wilmington participants will try to bring home a gold medal on the mat. Dan and Mike Bonnell as well as Jamie Campbell, Ryan Clancy, Adam DiPasquale, Brian Grilo, Nick Maselli, Chris Minghella, Greg Moran, Brian Shea, Shawn Sullivan and Dan Torpey, all from the WHS program, will begin their quest to improve on their techniques on Friday, July 18 at 6 p.m. at UMass-Boston.

Track and Field is the second popular sport from the Wilmington participants as five locals will take part beginning on Saturday, July 19th at M.I.T. from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tracy Carter, Adrien Grise, Joseph Patrone, Suzy Walsh and Laura Winn are the locals who will participate, with Winn be the lone one from the WHS program.

Six others will take part as they are: AnnMarie Dalba and Michelle Niestepski in gymnastics (Sat. July 18th at M.I.T. beginning at 10 a.m.); Sean Cahill in soccer (Thursday July 17th at UMass-Boston); Catherine Townsend and Michelle McGonagle in softball (the 17th at UMass-Boston) and finally, Catherine Nichols in shooting which begins on Sunday, July 20th at M.I.T at 9 a.m.

The Greater Outdoors

Cast into hot summer stripe bass action

by Ed Larkin

The heat is on. After a great spring of casting, catching, and releasing our many fresh water species,it is time to start summer ocean fishing. The action for many of the early summer visitors started a bit late this year due to the hanging cold fronts.

But the action is fast and furious now. The bass have made their way up into the rivers and rocky shallows. This year 28 inches of striped bass is all you need to fill the ice box. Still, put back the resource if your luck is running.

If you are fortunate enough to have a boat, or a friend who will let you tag along, this is the best time of the year to troll. Use diving lures, spreader rigs, and tubes with sea worms; these will generate bone jarring hits.

The great thing about this species is you find them with each new incoming tide. Shore fishing is ideal for these hard hitting beauties. Use chunk mackerel or fresh pogies as bait. Use a floater rig to keep the bait off the bottom. Start fishing about two hours before high tide.

Take along a second rod to cast out your favorite lure. A Kast-Master or a medium Rapala will often entice the hungry beasts to strike. Make sure you send out a good solid cast so your chunk bait sits comfortably on the bottom for a natural presentation. When using casting lures, quick retrieves help develop the right action of movement.

There are plenty of great locations to fish within a 30-40 minute drive. You need not seek out far places or exotic lands to find good fishing.

All along the Lynn waterfront offers easy access to great shore fishing. Try a place called Red Rocks. Many locals fish up and down this stretch of water. Find the fishermen and you will probably find the fish. Any angler worth his weight will share tips and tactics.

Plum Island offers some great fishing. Just be careful because sometimes there are big crowds. Depending on the time of year, there may also be restricted access to some of the better fishing spots. The best thing about these two places is you can take the family along to enjoy the beaches.

Last, but certainly not least, is the fly rodders. Sinking line and heavy flies are the only way to get the lure to the fish. Brightly colored Clouser minnows will work most of the time. Check in with the local bait and tackle shop for some insights to what is working for the local flyers. Fly fishing often takes the angler out into the surf or onto sand bars. Always watch the incoming tide. Don't get caught in water you can't get out of.

Some of the more popular fly fishing spots are Plum Island, the Merrimack River, and the Ipswich River. If you travel to Cape Cod, tossing a fly in the canal could bring many pleasant returns. Along the National Seashore is also pretty good.

Because of the conservation of our more popular ocean game fish, we have plenty to go around. Do your part - catch and release. Take the time and explain to people new to the sport, the importance of technique, conservation, and good sportsmanship.

The Greater Outdoors Column reappears this week after a short hiatus. Ed Larkin has been on vacation and on military leave. His column will appear on a regular basis.

Younger 15-year old American squad off to great start

by Stephen Repsys

Like last year, the Tewksbury 14-15 year old American Baseball All Star team are off to a great start.

They improved to 2-0 on Saturday by beating Lowell Highlands 8-4.

Coach Kevin Shea was happy to get the second win under the team's belt under any circumstance.

"We didn't play our best, but we played well enough to get the job done. The team had 12 hits but struck out 11 times, so it was either feast or famine," Shea said, as his team will now play on Friday against Billerica with the site, and time yet to be announced as of presstime.

Tewksbury feasted on Lowell in the first inning striking for three runs. Alan Balcom singled to right. Following suit, Steve Gilchrist also singled. John Takach brought home the first run with his single to left. A bullet line drive to the right field corner by Jay Wagstaff scored two runs to put Tewksbury up to an early 3-0 lead.

Lowell responded in the bottom of the inning, coming up with three runs of their own. Two base hits and an error loaded the bases. Another error accounted for Lowell's first run. Lowell managed to tie the game on a bases loaded walk and a passed ball.

Tewksbury responded to the challenge and went ahead in the third. Gilchirist's tripled to deep center field. Later he scored on a passed ball to put Tewksbury up 4-3.

Again Lowell knotted the score in the bottom of the inning. Lowell's second baseman singled up the middle and stole second. He was brought home on a single to deep center by Lowell's center fielder.

"Lowell was tough and they hung in there against us for a while," Shea said.

Tewksbury pulled ahead for good in the fifth. Balcrom singled to right and later swiped second. He advanced to third on a putout and came around to score Tewksbury's fifth run on a passed ball.

In the sixth inning, Tewksbury was able to widen the gap in the score. Wagstaff singled to right and was able to commit some major thievery. Without a throw he was able to steal both second and third.

"He's very quick. He's got great speed," said Shea, speaking of Wagstaff.

Eric Nickerson's base hit to left enabled Wagstaff to cross the plate to make it 6-4.

Lowell attempted to rally in the bottom of the sixth. With two runners aboard, Lowell looked to do some further damage but were thwarted by a great defensive play.

With two outs, third baseman Mark Gigilo made a great diving catch on a foul ball to close the door on Lowell.

"Mark made an outstanding catch. His defense definitely saved some runs," said Shea.

Tewksbury's lead grew further in the seventh. Balcrom had his second hit of the day by singling to right. Jay Brzezowski was hit by a pitch, putting two runners aboard. Gilchrist scorched a double to deep left center for his third hit of the game to put Tewksbury ahead 8-4.

"Gilchrist hit the ball real well that day. He singled, doubled and tripled. He was a homer away from the cycle. Also he came in relief and pitched really well, striking out five," said Shea.

Last Wednesday night, Tewksbury opened the season with a 4-3 win over Methuen at Obdens Field.

Tewksbury drew first blood in the second inning. Brzezowski singled to short right field and moved to second on a passed ball. Later he advanced to third on a put out. Wagstaff continued the rally with a walk. With two outs, Ryan Schuler's fast dropping single put Tewksbury up 2-0.

Methuen didn't score until the fifth. A lead off homer by Methuen's second baseman over the right field fence brought Methuen within a run.

In the sixth, Tewksbury scored a pair of runs creatively. Balcrom led off the inning with a picture perfect bunt down the third base line. Balcrom stole second and a pitch later he advanced to third on a passed ball with Gilchrist going to first on the same pitch via ball four. Gilchrist didn't remain at first base too long, as he swiped second. A dropped third strike ensued on the next Tewksbury batter. The throw to first to record the out was successful, but the Methuen first baseman's throw home was too high bringing home both Balcrom and Gilchrist to make it 4-1.

Methuen made things interesting in the seventh scoring two runs. A great defensive play by Wagstaff put the spark out of Methuen with the bases loaded. A ball hit by Methuen's right fielder looked destined for the outfield and looked like Methuen was going to score again. Wagstaff dove to his left to prevent the ball from going to the outfield and picked himself up in time to beat the runner to the first base bag. Methuen seemed dejected by this as the last batter harmlessly lined out to the pitcher to end the game.

Shea was extremely pleased with his defense.

"We had some excellent defensive plays. Jay Wagstaff particularly stood out. He and shortstop [Chris Godoy] anchored the defense. We're not a big strong team but we do the little things well and that's going to win games. We have a great bunch of kids and that's what makes it enjoyable."

Tewksbury looks for their third win on Friday against Billerica.

"Friday is a big game. If we beat Billerica we're in great shape," said an optimistic Shea. "That will tell us where we're at. It doesn't get any easier from here here but we'll be ready."

If the Americans can beat Billerica on Friday and the 15 year-old Nationals also win on Friday night, that means for the second straight summer the two teams will match-up in the winner's bracket final.

John Engdahl's rbi single in the bottom of the seventh inning broke a 15 all tie to lift Stelio's past Uptown Deli is this back-and-forth offensive gem.

Roy Anderson had two doubles, while, Ken Fiendel chipped in with three hits in the win.

Paul Fullerton went the distance twice in the defeat, while, Bob Hogg added two base hits.

3 Sons Contracting	21
Rocco's	8

3 Sons went to the air several times as it beat Rocco's behind three touchdowns as everyone hit for the cycle in this game. Steve Brander, Roy Bromander, Paul Gracia and Artie Bibeau led the way for 3 Sons combining for 13 hits.

Rich Rappoli went deep in the losing cause and Larry Cushing smacked three hits in the losing cause.

Lions Club	22
Uptown Deli	21

With time running out with what was already a 15 hour game, the LIons Club elected to go for the win instead of the tie with the two-point conversion to win this marathon game, 22-21. Charlie Vallas' single in the bottom of the seventh to score Mike Winn gave the Lions the hard fought victory. Winn, Scott Aldrich and Johnson combined for 12 hits in the win.

Peter Brown and Bobby Hogg had three hits each in the loss.

3 Sons Contracting	29
Peterson Club	7

Once again it was all 3 Sons as Paul Gracia, Bobby Butters and Mark Blaisdell paced the offense as they combined to go 10-for-12 including three extra base hits and seven rbi's.

Ed Doherty had two hits in the loss.

Brothers Pizza	11
Rocco's	7

BP continued its undefeated record to six games with an 11-7 victory. Artie Sughrue had three hits and David Woods had a double and a triple in the win to pace the way for BP.

Bobby Aprile and Rich Rappoli had two hits each in the loss.

Under 12A soccer team takes second

The U12A Boys Soccer Team coached by Bob Paquin and Louis Goldblatt traveled to Springfield during the last weekend in June for the Massachusetts State Soccer Tournament, and played some phenomenal soccer.

The team ended up with a 4-1 record with the lone loss coming at the wrong time, during the final game of the weekend.

Wilmington started out strong on Saturday morning, with a convincing 6-0 win over Northboro. Keith Frongillo came out like a man possessed with five goals in the first game, John Bavota scored the sixth goal. Wilmington controlled the ball during the entire game, with midfielders Pat Souza, Andrew Holland, Chad Paquin and Steve Gravellese keeping the ball in the offensive end all morning allowing Keith and John to score the goals.

The second game was played Saturday afternoon, and was much tighter than the morning game. The opponent was Dartmouth. Wilmington was shut out most of the first half, but late in the half Jordan Ungvarsky had a free kick to the left of the goalie. A defender tried to head the ball away but directed back, and over the out stretched arms of the goalie; 1-0 Wilmington.

In the second half, Wilmington's defense gave up a goal allowing Dartmouth to tie the game. Late in the second half, Keith once again found the net giving Wilmington a 2-1 lead. The defense led by Matthew Goldblatt, Pat O'Shea, John Tobin and Jordan Ungvarsky kept the ball away from keeper Dennis DiCenso and gave Wilmington win number two.

Game three was played Sunday morning against a strong team from Weymouth, both teams were 2-0 at the start of the game. The winner of this game was heading to the playoff mound. Wilmington got on the board first, a handball by a Weymouth defender in the penalty area gave Wilmington a penalty kick. Keith took it and drilled it past the goalie, 1-0 Wilmington.

Late in the first half, Danny O'Connell streaked up the right side, and led Keith with a perfect pass and deposited it into the net, 2-0 Wilmington. Weymouth came out like a team with a mission in the second half, and scored twice to tie the game. Wilmington was on the defensive as Weymouth continued to dominate the game.

Late in the second half, Danny found the net himself with a great kick from the right side of the field over the hands of the Weymouth goalie; 3-2 Wilmington. Time ran out and Wilmington was into the playoff rounds.

The semifinal game was played Sunday afternoon, and Wilmington used its experience and size to control the contest and win 2-0. Jordan scored his second goal of the tournament and Ryan Patrie scored his first goal on a break away as he chipped it over the

All three Wilmington A.S.A. Softball teams playing terrific

WILMINGTON - Wilmington's A.S.A. Traveling Softball teams are in full swing now that the summer has begun. Fielding teams in the 16 and under, 14 and under and 12 and under, provides quite a few games and some tremendous competition for our young ladies.

16 and unders

The 16 and unders coached by Jim McGonagle are busy on the road all summer. The 16's compete in tournament play all summer long with a tournament already under their belts in Taunton and upcoming tournaments in Somerset, Lowell, Leominster, Chelmsford and Taunton. Again, our locals will have their hands full with some of the best talent in the state as competition. The 16-year-olds are anchored by:

Robin Mainini M. McGonagle
Krist Langone Kara Langone
Maura Lynch Lauren McCarthy
Christina Downs Kristin Thomas

They are a very talented group of kids, so it should lead to a very productive summer for the young ladies.

14 and unders

The 14 and unders are coached by Paul Lyman and are busy playing in the highly competitive Middle Essex League. However, Coach Lyman opted to make it even more competitive by placing them in the 16 and under division. Despite playing against older and more experienced players the young ladies have more than held their own, and are currently sporting a 3-1 record. They have recorded victories over Danvers, Peabody and Beverly with their only loss coming at the hands of Reading. The young Wildcat rosters consist of 14-year-olds:

Colleen Cahill Katelyn Sugrue
Krista Wolfe Rebecca Lord
Michelle Lemos

13-year-olds

Jacqui Rubino Sara Collings
Christy Johnson Amanda Venuti
Kim Thomas Lauren Whitfield
Stephanie Winn Jenn Gillis

Many of these young ladies will be performing for the high school in the next few years. The 14's are scheduled for tournaments in Lowell and Taunton following their MiddleEssex schedule.

12 and unders

The 12 and unders are coached by Jake Townsend, Audrey Pini and Jack Fahey. They are a very young, but very talented group. Although having only three 12-year-olds, the Wildcats are competing in the 12 A Divison of the MiddleEssex League.

This year's group consists of nine-year-olds:

L. McGonagle Erin Cahill
Molly Sullivan

10 year-olds

Katie Martel Julie Martel
Lana Pini Patty Fennelly

11-year-olds

Lauren Rappolli Lauren Cushing
Kristin Burns Shannon Fahey
Maria Sorrantino

12-year-olds

Katie Sullivan Ryan Murphy
Keri Gillespie

Coach Townsend feels "We will lose early because we are really young, but we'll also improve playing the better competition. Hopefully the girls won't get too discouraged because later when we go to our tournaments and play back at our level, they will see the results."

So with some great coaching and continued effort we wish the very young Wildcats the best.

As the hot summer days are here, spend the time with the Wilmington Recreation Program

WILMINGTON - Registration for Wilmington Recreation Department Summer, 1997 programs may be accomplished Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Recreation Office, room 8, Town Hall. Phone-in registrations are possible in some cases

Programs

Playground: (Ellen Grinder and Dorothy McCarthy) Ages six-12 (completed first grade but not seventh grade), $45 Mon-Fri., 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tues., July 1, Tuesday, Aug 12 (Town Hall and Woburn St. School).

The Woburn Street School has been added as a second playground location this summer. Parents may register their child between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays. This varied program consists of arts and crafts, quiet games, active games, special events, sports, tournaments, field trips and free play. This is a good program for volunteer helpers who have completed grades seven eight or nine. Five leaders and several volunteers provide supervision. The second child in a family pays $25; third is free. A playground shirt is included.

Gymnastics: (Jennifer Boucher) Ages four through grade 6, $20, Tues., and Thurs., July 15-31 (WHS gym). This program is coed. Basic tumbling and gymnastics are offered. Classes are noon for preschool and 1 p.m. for grades one through six.

Special Needs Day Camp (Bill Simmons) Special kids $45, Mon-Fri., 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Mon., June 30-Fri., Aug, 8. This day camp is for Wilmington youths with special needs. We are again allowing up to 10 mainstream youngsters to join the program. This new concept is known as "inclusion." Register at the Town Hall any time. Cost is $25 for family's second child. A camper t-shirt is included.

Canoe Clinic (Ron Swasey and Wilderness Plus) Ages 12 and up free, Tues., July 15, 6 to 8:30 p.m. (Silver Lake). Learn nomenclature, strokes, safety and then practice newly acquired skills.

Canoe rental: They're $10 per day, $15 per weekend or $3 per hour (minimum of two hours).

VCR tapes: We have a wide variety of VCR tapes for loan. Our Disney vacation tapes and ESPN sports tapes are especially popular.

Town Beach: (Ed Woods) now through Sunday, Aug. 24, Silver Lake. The public beach at Silver Lake provides the finest natural recreation resource. Qualified lifeguards supervise the facility from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 7 p.m. on Sunday. Wilmington residents may now use the beach at no charge. We also invite residents from adjoining towns to share our beach at the rate of $30 per adult and $10 per child or a family rate of $70. Out of towners may purchase identifying season tags at the Rec office any weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Proof of residency may be required. Day passes for out of towners at $3 each may be purchased at the beach.

Baby sitting course: (Betty Dick, Lowell General Hospital). We hope to offer another class for grades five through eight in the fall on Saturday, September 27 from 9 a.m to 1 p.m. Certificates will be awarded. Call to get on interest list.

Golf lessons: (Barrie Bruce, Billerica Country Club). Golf Lessons Youth, ages nine-12; Mon-Fri., Aug 11-15, 9 to 10:30 a..m., $55; Lessons I, ages 13 and up, Mondays, July 7-Aug 4 (five weeks), 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., $85.; Lessons II (advanced) 13 and up, Sundays, July 13-Aug 10, (five weeks) 4 to 5 p.m., $85.

Basketball clinics; (Woburn St. School or North Intermediate) Mon-Fri., July 21-25 9 to 10:30 a.m. or 10:30 a.m. to noon; ages 6 and 7 together at Woburn St. ($15) as are ages eight-13 at North ($20).

Twi-Light Basketball League: It's coed for ages 10-16 as of July 1, 1997. Teams play twice a week in the evening for six weeks beginning through August 14. Cost is $25; games are at 6, 7, 8,or 9 p.m. at the North or Shawsheen.

Town t-shirts: They're pictorial Wilmington at its best. We've got sweatshirts ($20) and t-shirts ($10) and night shirts ($15) They make great gifts.

Guitar lessons: (Karen Hanegan) Beginners for grades six-12 Tues., Thurs through July 24 from 1 to 2:20 p.m. Cost $30. Classes will be held at the Town Hall.

Beach volleyball: (Silver Lake) Informal offering for grades six to 10 at town beach during public beach hours. Pickup games will take place in co-ed fashion.

Discounts: Save $$$ at Disney and other Florida attractions; BJs Warehouse, Six Flags, Hershey Park, Busch Gardens, Basketball Hall of Fame, etc.

Discount tickets: Water Country tickets, $18, regular price at gate $23.95, four feet and over; Showcase Cinema, $4.50 each; General Cinema, $4.50, children under 12 $2.75; Big E tickets, Fair runs Sept. 12-28, cost is $8.

Concerts: (Town common). Sweet melodies will fill the air over the common again this summer. The free concerts will be Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8:30 July 16, 23, 30 and August 5.

Rafting: Try it, you'll love it! Discounted trips on the Concord River, the Deerfield River and all over New England with Wilderness Plus! Call us.

Cold Spring goalie. The exceptional play of Tom Doyle and Tom Duffy helped keep the ball away from Wilmington's end. As time ran out the Wilmington parents cheered the team on into the finals on Monday morning.

The final was played against a well coached medfield team. The first half was scoreless thanks to team MVP keeper Dennis DiCenso. In the second half Medfield scored twice. and kept the ball out of its end winning a tough game. Both teams played well and their communities can be very proud of them.

First Triathlon set for July 13

The Greater Lowell Family YMCA will host its first annual Triathlon Sunday, July 13 starting at 8 a.m. The course will consist of a mile and a half swim, a 14 mile bike loop (and back) and a five mile run (up and back).

This event is open to men and women, teams and individuals. Race awards will go to the top three individual men and women finishers in the following age groups: 17 and under, 18-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59 and 60 and over. First three teams in the men's, women's and mixed groups will receive medals. Computerized results will be provided.

Entry fee for individuals is $30 before July 7 and $35 after July 7. Entry fee for teams is $60 before July 7 and $65 after July 7.

There will be a spaghetti dinner on Saturday, July 12 from 5:30 to 8 for participants. Race number, t-shirt and map pickup will be available at this time as well as from 6:15 to 7:15 a.m. on race day. T-shirts will be given to the first 150 entrants, including teams.

Burlington amputee Mike Welsch does

194 mile Mass Challenge bike ride

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Imagine being 38 years-old and still in good enough shape to make a 194 mile bicycle ride from Sturbridge to Provincetown in two days.

Take that imagination one step further and add a left leg that was amputated below the knee because of a motorcycle accident.

Burlington's Michael Welsch does not have to imagine any of the above. On August 2 and 3, rain or shine he will be adding the Pan Mass Challenge for the Jimmy Fund to his weekend activities.

Right now it is a part of his daily life as he is in training for his sixth year in the race.

"The Pan Mass is not something you can take lightly," Welsch said. "It is gruelling, very gruelling. I don't care if you have three legs, it is gruelling."

Normally when Welsch trains for a distance event he is able to concentrate on just that event. In this case biking would be his only exercise.

However, a complication is being thrown into the mix as the Boston Light 10-mile swim will be held shortly after the Pan Mass, during the last week in August.

"Now I have to mix my biking and swimming," Welsch said.

In a poster that he passes out as a fund raising tool, Welsh wrote, "No one is telling you to ride 200 miles. You want to do it or else you wouldn't be there."

The Pan Mass is stretched out over two days, with riders covering about 112 miles on the first day and the balance on the second.

As a reward, the Pan Mass provides massages for the participants and grilled hamburgers are flipped by members of the Boston Red Sox.

Welsch also has the pleasure of riding with three friends who get together for the trek once a year. They are Wilmington's Mickey Rooney, Dennis Ferry, also of Burlington and Richard Robbins, a friend of the three from their days in the Marines.

Robbins travels from California each year just to ride in the race.

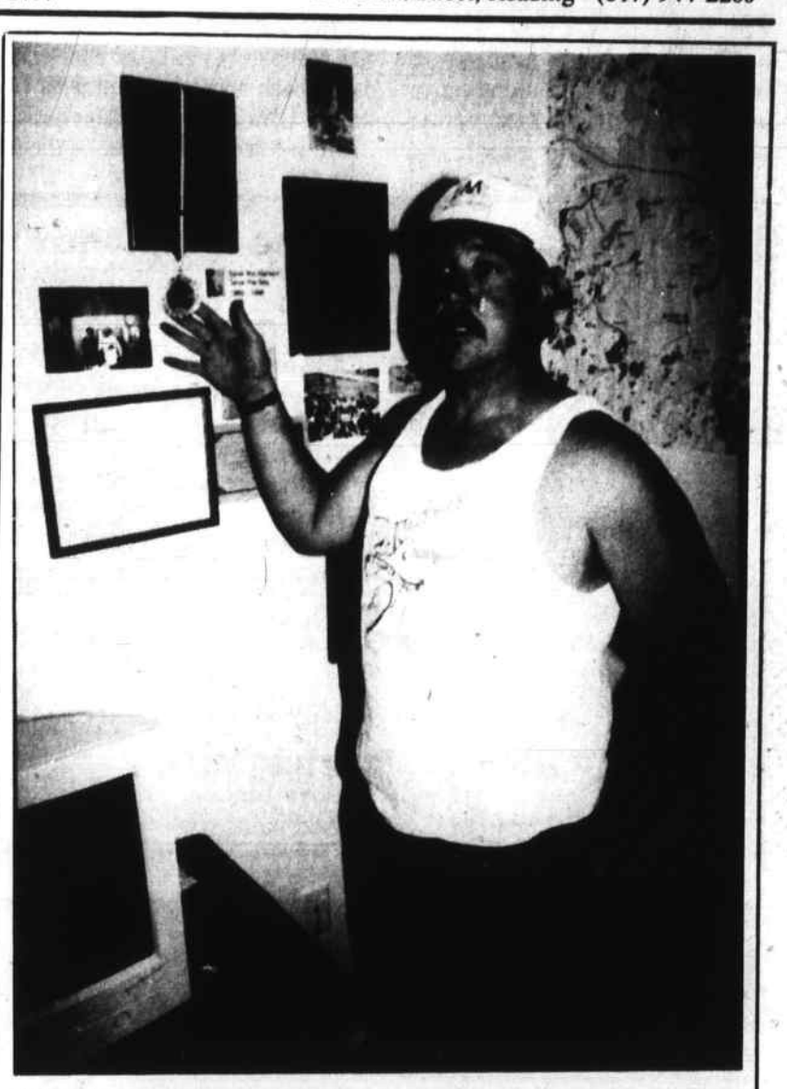

Also on hand are friends that Welsch has made over the years while riding in the race. These include television handy man Bob Villa.

According to Welsch, "The low point is when the race is over. You sort of grieve.

"You suck up so much in one weekend and then the people leave."

The Pan Mass is an 18 year-old event that Welsch describes as one of the biggest money makers for the Jimmy Fund,

ANTHONY MANCONI

From time immemorial, emperors, royalty or potentates wanted their names and likenesses perpetuated. So, the best sculptors were summoned and commissioned to execute a statue. Because of its durability, "Marble" was generally chosen, thereby ensuring it would endure for centuries. Everyone makes mistakes

A carpenter today would use plastic wood or putty to hide his error. Sculptors used a special 'WAX' whenever a chisel slipped, perhaps knocking off an ear lobe of the image he was

The healing power of herbs

Long before penicillin and well in advance of the first surgical procedure, man has treated illness and disease through the earth's abundant variety of natural herbs. Man is again turning his attention to the healing power of herbs ranging from aloe vera, buckthorn and cinnamon to valerian, wolfsbane and yucca.

"The knowledge and use of herbs should be challenging to every thinking person who is concerned about his health and the health of his family," says author and herbalist May Bethel. "Research is substantiating the truths herbalists have known for centuries. Schools of pharmacy are granted large sums to study the relation of plant chemistry to the restoration of health and resistance to disease," said Bethel.

Her book, The healing Power Of Herbs, reveals herbs that have been used for centuries to treat illnesses and diseases. Included are more than 200 medicinally active herbs, history of herbal medicine, and more. The book is available for $12.50 plus $3 shipping from TwinXpressions, Inc., 81 Susanne Circle, Colorado Springs, CO 80911-1482.

"Everyone should have a knowledge of what herbs can do," says Bethel. "You can erase the pain of bee sings by applying bruised green leaf of plantain. Slippery elm bark and wild cherry bark can relieve stomachaches.

"A solution of equal parts of a strong white oak bark tea and lime water can soothe the itch of poison oak. Gargling with sage, honey, and cayenne can eliminate a sore throat. A cup of chamomile tea can help cure insomnia."

trying to create. The Latin word for wax is "Cerus."

The craftsman who was proud of his work would chisel his name at the base of the statue and add the words. "Sins Cerus." (without wax).

Folks, our English word "Sincerely" tells the recipients of our letters, cards or notes, that our words, thoughts and sentiments, are indeed Sincere, Genuine and Honest in other words "Without Wax!"

The late George Burns said, "It's too bad that all the people who know how to run the country, are Busy driving taxis or cutting hair."

With the warmer weather finally here, I stopped at Kelly's Kreme on the beach and asked the pretty young lady, "what flavors of ice-cream do you have?" She replied in a hoarse voice, "Vanilla, Chocolate and Strawberry." I was trying to be sympathetic so I asked, "Do you have Laryngitis?" She struggled to compose herself but still managed to shout, "Look here Four-Eyes, I just told you, Vanilla, Chocolate and Strawberry!"

After so many years my friend Bill Burton and all the members of the U.S.S. Emmons received a genuine "Simulated gold medal" from Russia. It was given in appreciation for protecting a convoy of cargo ships heading for the port of Murmansk in World War II. I didn't dare tell Bill (after seeing the medal), that he should have it bronzed so the Gold won't rust.

Folks, there must be many beneficial qualities in being a Vegetarian. I shook hands with "Killer Kowalski" (the great wrestler), who claims that he's never eaten Meat, Fish or Fowl. He looks to me that he could hold back the whole "Green Bay Packers Football Team" with one hand.

In the wrestling ring Killer is an actor, playing the part of a raging Bull. In every day life he is "Walter Kowalski," of Stoneham, gentle as a lamb. You or I could see him sitting beside us some Sunday morning. He is a kind, friendly and gregarious person. I am proud to call Walter "Killer" Kowalski My Friend.

The Scots are know for their Thrift, Colorful Kilts, Bagpipes and beautiful complexions.

The Italians are world renowned for their Music, Artists Sculptors and La Dolci Vita way of life.

The French, English, Swedes, Germans, Austrian's, Russians, Chinese, Japanese and the people of all the countries of the world, have particular traits and customs that are associated with their countries.

Any baker can tell you, that Each and Every ingredient is important in making exquisite bread, cakes, pies and pastries. We are indeed fortunate here in American to have representatives from almost every country of the world who, along with our native Indians, make America the Greatest Nation in the world.

Paul Simon asked an American Indian coming out of a Red Cross Bloodmobile, "Sir, are you a Full blooded Indian?" "No," he replied, "I'm One Pint short."

or contacts. You can also learn about RK, another proven, safe and quick technique to correct near-sightedness and astigmatism.

Here's what Tracy says:
"Three years ago, Dr. Horsley corrected my nearsightedness with RK. Since then, no more glasses or their expense. Best thing I ever did for myself."

HORSLEY EYE CLINIC
3 Woodland Road, Stoneham
At Boston Regional Medical Center

Free Evaluation for laser or RK 979-0960

At the Clinic, Laser (PRK) and RK procedures cost much less than elsewhere.

Easy payment plans. Will Horsley, M.D. is a board certified ophthalmologist, highly experienced in RK and PRK. More than 1,500 performed.

The Summit Technology, SVS Apex laser is approved to perform Photo-Refractive Keratectomy (PRK) for the correction of mild to moderate myopia (1.5 to 7.0 diopters) in eyes with ≤ 1.5 diopters of astigmatism. Summit Technology's approval is based on clinical trials of more than 1600 eyes together with safety information through 3 years of follow up. Alternatives to PRK are contact lenses, eyeglasses and radial keratotomy. Studies using a 6 mm treatment zone in 341 eyes have found that at 6 months after treatment, uncorrected vision was 20/40 or better in 95% of eyes and 20/20 or better in 66% of eyes. In 7% of eyes, best corrected vision with eyeglasses declined more than one line with none worse than 20/40. Transient implications up to several weeks included pain (24-48 hours), corneal swelling, double vision, feeling something is in the eye, shadow images, light sensitivity, tearing and pupil enlargement. The following adverse effects occured in at least 1% of eyes within 6 months of treatment: night vision difficulty (1%), elevation of intraocular pressure (2%), hazy cornea affecting vision (2%), overcorrection or became farsighted (5%), undercorrection or still nearsighted (6%), mild halo (10%), minor glare (10%). Long term risks of PRK, beyond three years have not been studied. This laser is not indicated to correct high myopia (nearsightness > 7.00), astigmatism, or farsightedness.

FEATURED THIS WEEK IS THE CLOCK TOWER of the Winchester Town Hall. The town hall and clock tower were designed by the Boston architectural firm of Rand and Taylor. They were built in 1887 in the "Richardson Romanesque" style using heavy, dark red bricks, an asymmetrical design and angled roof. Henry Hobson Richardson was a famous Boston architect. This building marked the turning of the town of Winchester from a village to a suburb. In 1983 the Massachusetts Historical Commission placed this unique building on the National Register of Historic Places. (Photo by Frank Gazarian)

About The Towns
by Phyllis Nissen

Safety first

'Housekeeping,' too

"Russell Petersen has a lot of housekeeping work to do before he departs the police force July 18," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Petersen, who has been an officer in Burlington for 32 years and a resident of the town for 55 of his 60 years, has an office full of file cabinets, pictures, decals, patches and documents.

"What he holds most dear, however, are the AAA outstanding achievement awards received in back-to-back years (1987-88) for pedestrian and traffic safety.

"'After 32 years, it's time to try something different,' said Petersen. 'I have mixed emotions about it, but I'm a little worn down. I just want to get out of police work.'

"The AAA plaques are outside his office, on the wall."

'His best memories'

"He said his best memories of the job will come from 'helping people,'" notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle" (please see above).

"The awards mean Burlington has a 'good pedestrian record' on traffic safety.

"'We've had few fatalities, few injuries, nothing real serious,' said Petersen. 'I feel we've done something right.'

"'Helping people, watching kids grow up, watching them put on their helmets and seat belts; these are the things I'll remember,' said Petersen. 'Things like watching a kid cross the street safely.'

"'Maybe,' Petersen continued, 'one kid remembered what I told him, and used it to save a life.'

"Petersen has spent a lot of time talking to students in the schools.

"'Most of them are good kids, they listen,' said Petersen. 'You always get the rebellious few.'

"He has been a full-time safety officer since 1972; he has not drawn his gun, he said, since the 1970s, when he made an arrest following a pursuit (a picture on his wall captures the moment).

"Petersen has also been involved with the Safety Town program that takes place each summer at the Burlington Mall.

"Kindergartners and first-graders learn all the rules of safety under the supervision of Petersen and a replica, miniature town is created.

"They learn about how to properly wait for a bus, cross the street, and how not to chase a ball if it goes over their head and onto the street.

"When the children finish the program, Petersen said, they receive a certificate for an ice cream at Brigham's.

"Petersen said D.A.R.E. officers will assume responsibility for the program after he leaves."

'Whole town has changed'

"When Petersen came to work in July 1965, there were 11 officers on the Burlington police force," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle" (please see above).

"Since then, 'the whole town has changed, there is so much more traffic and industry is all around us,' said Petersen.

"He said he believes what adds to the traffic is the town being used as a 'cut-through' for Bedford and Billerica residents.

"'There is a lot of traffic up Winn Street to Billerica, and Wilmington Road to Route 62,' said Petersen. 'People use this town to get through to their towns.'

"'Police work has changed; officers have more problems than they've ever experienced,' said Petersen.

Mass Challenge bike ride

From S-1

which benefits Cancer research at the Dana Farber Cancer Institute.

"It is an awesome event," Welsch said. "You always meet someone new and everyone has a story to tell."

Those stories are usually about a family member or close friend that has had a bout with Cancer or has died from one of the various forms of the disease.

Like everyone else, Welsch has his story. His mother died of cancer several years ago and a friend's mother died of the disease after losing several body parts in operations.

The first year Welsch was in the race, he did it as a training for the Iron Man Decathlon held in Hawaii. However, that event almost destroyed his confidence when he could not finish it.

It was not until several years later that Welsch went back to the Pan Mass after his mother died.

According to Welsch, the founder of the race, Billy Starr, was looking to help find a cure for Cancer research after a member of his family died from the disease. Last year the race brought in $4.5 million for research. The 18 year total has been $21.5 million and this year the goal is $4.75 million.

Of the 1996 amount, Welsch was responsible for $1,300. The previous year, Welsch raised $2,000.

Welsch is a carpenter with the special reconstruction and renovations division of the Metropolitan District Commission (MDC). He helps to make sure that the MDC's facilities are in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and are handicap accessible.

The department has been responsible for installing seven wheel chair lifts at MDC pools throughout the region to make them more accessible to wheelchair bound people. Another factor of his job is to run special programs such as fishing trips for handicapped people.

He is grateful to his manager at the MDC, James Ippolito, for being understanding and letting him have the time he needs for his extracurricular activities. Among those, for the past two years, Welsch has also served on the Governor's Council for Physical Fitness and Health.

Welsch became painfully aware of the needs of the handicapped after he lost his leg as the result of a motorcycle accident in 1979 that was alcohol related.

He is not afraid to talk about that accident and the affect it has had on him.

"If you abuse alcohol," Welsch said, "there is a price you have to pay. I hope I can keep some young person from making the same mistake."

According to Welsch, alcoholism is something that has to be consistently looked at.

"The people need to be educated," he said.

Although he has participated in such events as the Iron Man and the Boston Marathon, which he completed in eight hours, Welsch was not particularly athletic while a high school student in Dorchester.

"While I was in the Marine Corps I started to get into physical fitness," Welsch said.

It was at that time he started to ride a bicycle on a daily basis and took up hockey.

As to his condition now, Welsch said, "I don't feel 38. I'm in good shape."

He has to be! He has completed the Marathon and this will be his third year in the Boston Light Marathon Swim which covers a 10 mile course from the Boston Light to the L. Street Beach in South Boston.

Although he did not complete the Iron Man his performance was very good. The event consists of a 2.5 mile swim, a 112 mile bike race and a 26 mile marathon.

"I was 13 miles into the marathon" Welsch said, "when I had to quit because of my prosthesis."

He fought depression for two years after that but then came to the realization that he averages 12-15 minute miles in marathons.

"What is wrong with that?" he asked himself.

Throwing himself literally back into the race Welsch climbed Mount Washington in 5.5 hours and competed in a swimming event on Chesapeake Bay.

He described that event as "five miles with rough currents."

Welsch is now a regular competitor in the Falmouth Road Race.

"I was the first amputee to run in Falmouth," Welsch said. "Now there is a second amputee running."

He has high regards for the organizers of the race, who have made him feel very welcome.

"I average eight hours in the Boston Marathon," Welsch said. "By the time I come in some of the barricades are down."

He notes that the organizers of the Falmouth race let the handicapped runners take off early.

Not surprisingly, many of the competitors in the events look to Welsch for inspiration.

However, he looks to his wife, Cookie, and three children, Ashley, 7, Mika, 5, and Marky, 2.

"You always need a reason to do something," Welsch said. "I always look at my family. That is the biggest one."

Another inspiration is veteran Boston Marathoner Johnny Kelly, the elder.

If you would like to sponsor Welsch contact him at:

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

Reading United Soccer Club (RUSC) is sponsoring a camp run by Major League Soccer Camps for the week of July 14-18 at Collins Field at Parker Middle School in Reading.

RUSC states that the camp's focus is on the player first, and the soccer techniques learned through a non-directive coaching environment (lots of games rather than talking and drills) will not only be fun, but will greatly help the player in the coming seasons.

Players attending the camp are grouped by ability and playing experience to ensure an enjoyable experience by all. The Munchkin session (5 and 6 year olds half hours each day) will introduce youngsters to soccer and teach them the skills they need to have fun and success in the game.

The Nippers session (7-9 year olds, half day sessions) centers on fundamental techniques such as control, dribbling, passing, shooting, etc. In the Intermediate program (9-11 year olds, half or full days) players confront team concepts like space, balance, width and support as well as skill development. The Advanced program (12-18 year olds, full day) develops roles for defenders, midfielders and strikers and focuses on developing positional responsibilities, systems of play and team communication skills.

Each player attending camp receives a shirt, ball and goody bag. The cost is $60 for Munchkins, $95 for a half day and $130 for a full day. Call Judy Conner at 944-4626 for more information, or pick up registration forms at the Reading Public Library or the Reading Trophy store in Reading Square.

SPORTS SHORTS

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: For whom was the largest championship sports ring in history made? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•The CARTER AND COLEMAN softball team from Reading recently qualified for the NSA World Series, to be held in Orlando, Florida from September 12-14. The team gained the berth by winning the NSA Regional Qualifier recently in Palmer, going 4-0 in the tourney, which culminated in a 17-2 win by the slaughter rule over the Braves of Springfield, Ma. The team was led by Co-MVP John Moynihan, who hit five home runs, while the defense was anchored by Co-MVP Steve Whelan. Anyone who would like to help send the team to Florida should call 942-2365.

•Belmont Hill School Summer Programs is accepting applications for experienced athletes and newcomers in lacrosse. The programs are tailored to ages 10-17 and to all skill levels. The fee is $175 per week. Each camp meets 9 am to 4 pm daily. The girls lacrosse camp runs from July 21-25, while the boys lacrosse camp runs from July 28 - August 1. For further information call 617-484-4410, ext. 268.

•Need a clue or two to help solve the trivia mystery? The ring was a size 17, and the sport was professional football.

•The 1997 Viking Hockey School (held at Rockett Ice Arena at Salem State College, 225 Canal Street, Salem, MA) will be held on the following weeks:

August 11-15: Mite 8 am - 3 pm; Squirt 8:30 am - 3:30 pm; Pee Wee/Bantam 10 am - 5 pm. Cost: $245.

August 18-22: Mite 8 am - 3 pm; Squirt 8:30 am - 3:30 pm; Pee Wee/Bantam 10 am - 5 pm. Cost: $245.

August 25-29: Mite/Squirt 8 am -12:30 pm; Pee Wee/Bantam 9:30 am - 2 pm. Cost $195.

Evening camp - Youth hockey 6-7 pm; High School 7:10 pm - 8:10 pm. Cost: $95.

There are openings available for each session. For more information call 508-741-6575.

• ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The largest championship sports ring ever made was created for William "Refrigerator" Perry, of the Chicago Bears. Congratulations to those who answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

Towns

From S-3

"'When I first started out, you did not have to worry about getting shot,' Petersen continued. 'There is no respect for a police officer now. You could get killed.'

"'There is more violence,' Petersen said, 'and the attitudes are not the same as they were 32 years ago.'

"These are all the factors Petersen weighed when he discussed the decision with his wife, Leona.

"'It was a hard decision; I had plenty of time to think about it,' said Petersen, who from now on will spend winters in Arizona. 'Hopefully, I have no regrets. I'm looking forward to something different.'"

CLASSES OFFERED FOR EXPECTANT MOMS

Wellness during and after pregnancy comes from the right balance of proper exercise, good nutrition, emotional support and education and stress reduction. Melrose-Wakefield and Whidden Memorial Hospitals offer classes to meet the needs of expectant mothers. Included is:

"New Beginnings: Prenatal Education" Held at the Dutton Center, 117 Main Street, Wakefield on Mondays, July 14 or August 11 from 7-9pm. The program is designed for women in their first and second trimester and their families to learn about healthy nutrition, breastfeeding and postpartum, fetal development, body changes during pregnancy and an introduction to relaxation and Lamaze breathing techniques..

Registration is required for all prenatal classes. For fees and registration, please call the Childbirth Education Department, Melrose-Wakefield Hospital, at 617-979-3408.

SINGLES DANCE IN TEWKSBURY

A singles dance will be held at the Knights of Columbus, 2068 Main St., Tewksbury (telephone: 891-3750) on Friday, July 11, from 8 to 12pm.

Admission is $7. Take RTE. 128 to 28N and drive 6 1/2 miles. It is sponsored by Lexington Chapter of TSL (The Single Life).

BREASTFEEDING IS THE TOPIC OF LA LECHE

The early weeks of breastfeeding are a time of learning for both you and your baby. Most of the time the process goes smoothly. If problems develop it is rarely necessary to wean your baby. On Thursday, July 10 at 10:15am La Leche League of Reading will meet to discuss "The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties" at the Reading Public Library (upstairs meeting room), 64 Middlesex Ave., Reading. Women from surrounding towns are welcome.

This meeting is the third in the current series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies as well as pregnant and other interested women. The discussion is informal, with opportunity to ask questions and share experiences.

The group maintains a lending library of books on breastfeeding, childbirth and child care. La Leche League leaders may be called at any time for immediate help, encouragement and practical suggestions regarding breastfeeding, or to obtain the manual The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding.

For directions, further information, or just encouragement please call the group leaders: Linda 272-8930, Carmen 944-0377, or Karen 508-657-8301.

STUDY SKILLS COURSE AT MINUTEMAN TECH

Register now for MAKING THE GRADE WITH STUDY SKILLS at Minuteman Tech Summer School. Four one week sessions are offered; Session I, July 7-11; Session II, 14-18; 12-3pm or Session III, July 21-25; Session IV, July 28-August 1, 8:30-11:30pm.

The course provides the missing link for students whose potential is not reflected in school grades. This is the road to increased motivation and academic success.

This course is ideal for students in grades 7 thru college who need to develop efficient, time saving, study techniques. Students learn strategies that improve listening, note taking, reading comprehension, memorizing, test taking and much more.

The instructor, Roberta Wolman, has been a successful instructor of study skills since 1972 and is an SAT preparation expert. She is a full time Reading and Learning Specialist at Minuteman and a registered educational tutor.

For your convenience, you may register by calling Minuteman Tech Community Education at 617-861-7150, 8 am to 4pm Monday-Friday. To obtain specific course information contact the instructor at 617-861-6500 ext. 412 or in the evening at 617-721-1065. The course fee is $125, materials $20.

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

Taking the fifth

'Cash for Class'

"Reading's Birch Meadow School finished in fifth place in the Cash for Class Program, and was presented with a check for $1,400 recently at an awards ceremony held at the Burlington Mall," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Birch Meadow Principal Richard Davidson and Cash for Class Coordinator Debbie Powers were present at the ceremony to accept the check. Jackie Mandell accepted a $500 check for Coolidge Middle School, while the Barrows School was awarded $2,600 for taking part in the program.

"As part of the program, shoppers at the Burlington Mall could turn in receipts at any customer service center and designate which school they wished the points to be credited to. Every time the school publicized the mall, it earned another 1,000 points (for a maximum of 10,000 per month).

"The following is a list of points and prizes earned by the Reading schools participating in the program: Birch Meadow 290,075 points, Fifth place - $1,400; Coolidge Middle School 244,255 points, Eighth place - $500; Barrows 186, 215 points, 13th place - $300; Joshua Eaton 122,385 points, 20th place - $200; Killam 55,815 points, 33rd place - $200."

'Teen of the Year'

"Jason Suffredini from Burlington High School has been selected as the Teenager of the Year by the Billerica Elks," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"From the time he entered Burlington High School, Jason has demonstrated leadership and maturity. As class president for four years, he has had 'opportunity to gain many experiences and learn many valuable lessons about teamwork and leadership.'

"Jason has been a role model for all the students and a perfect link between the student body, faculty, and administration.

"He is a member of the newly formed Peer Mediation group and has demonstrated excellent judgement in helping to solve problems presented in the Peer Mediation cases and also in the decisions made by him as president of the senior class.

"Jason is a winner of countless academic and service awards, and has volunteered many hours of community service.

"As a contributing member of the school's tennis team, Jason has little free time. He excels academically and has been on the Honor Roll for four years.

"Jason will be attending Georgetown University in the fall.

"As Teenager of the Year, Jason was recently invited to the Statehouse by state Representative Charles Murphy."

Anyone you know?

"Due to Marge Robin's retirement and several leaves, there have been a number of changes in teacher assignments for next year," notes Lynnfield's "Summer Street School Quick News."

"Almost all positions have been filled and assignments for next year will be: Kindergarten - Abby Cole-Benedix, Anne Page, Cathy Szymanski with one open position; Grade 1 - Donna Blake, Jo-Anne Rogers, Linda Wilson; Grade 2 - Dr. Pamela Buchek, Ruta Kulbis, Judi Lucia, Margie O'Donnell; Grade 3 - Lorie Kelly, Cheryl Sanderson, Kristen Sperling; Grade 4 - Peter Miele, Michelle Robert, Bette Shoreman.

"We wish Marge Robins a healthy and happy retirement and Debbie Guenard, Beth Shea and Lisa Forrest happy years with their families!"

If you'd like to read about your favorite school, student or teacher in "School Notes," please send school newsletters and other relevant information to Phyllis Nissen, "School Notes," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867. We welcome student writing.

"Sales" in a company's financial report refers to the money a company received for the goods and services it sold. In some cases the figure includes receipts from rents and royalties. In others, particularly when rentals and royalties make up a large portion of a company's income, figures for these activities are listed separately.

The House of the Week

Porches Make This Home Special

G-61

TWIN DORMERS GIVE THIS RAISED ONE-STORY design the appearance of being a two-story. Stately columns and shuttered windows add to the appeal of the stucco facade.

Plan G-61, by HomeStyles Designers Network, offers ample outdoor areas that complement the appealing layout of the main living spaces. The home has 1,800 square feet of living space.

From the covered front porch, one enters directly into the expansive living room.

Situated at the center of the home, it features a fireplace, a 12-foot ceiling with a skylight and access to two porch areas.

Adjacent to the living room, the formal dining room is located near the kitchen for ease of service. Its large window looks out to the front porch.

At the back of the living room, double doors open to a bayed eating area, which overlooks the adjoining deck, and includes a sloped ceiling that rises to 12 feet in the kitchen. An angled snack bar, a built-in desk and a pantry are highlights of this well-designed kitchen space.

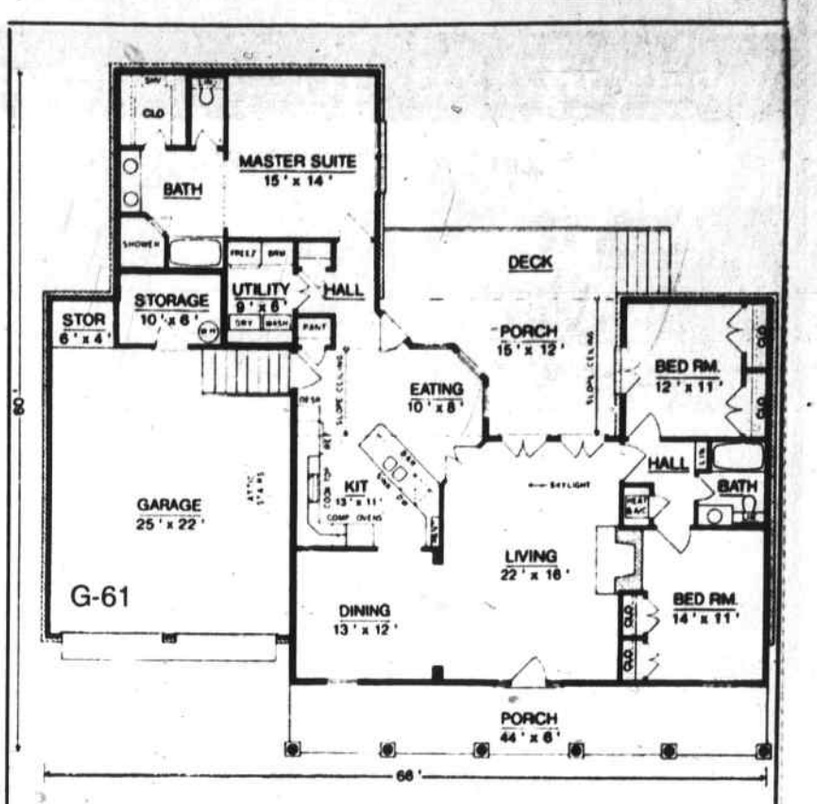

The elegant master suite is tucked to one side of the home and also overlooks the backyard and deck. It includes a private bath with a dual-sink vanity and walk-in closet.

Two nice-sized secondary bedrooms, each with a pair of closets, share a full bath on the other side of the home. The rear bedroom has access to the covered porch in back.

G-61 Statistics

Design G-61 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, eating area, three bedrooms, two baths and a utility room, totaling 1,800 square feet of living space. This plan includes a crawlspace or slab foundation, and 2x6 exterior wall framing. The two-car garage covers an area of 550 square feet, and the storage areas add an additional 84 square feet to the design.

For a more detailed, scaled plan of this house, including guides to estimating costs and financing, send $4 to House of the Week, P.O. Box 1562, New York, N.Y. 10116-1562. Be sure to include the plan number.

THE CENTRAL LIVING ROOM is entered directly from the covered front porch. The formal dining room is to the left of the living room. The kitchen has easy access to both the formal dining room and the bayed eating area, and also provides entry to the two-car garage. The utility room is off a hallway leading to the secluded master suite, which has a private bath. Across the home, a short hallway connects two secondary bedrooms and a full bath.

Replacing an old roof?

Most people give little thought to their roof until one of two events occur: it starts to leak or it looks so shabby it needs to be replaced.

In one sense, this is how it should be. There's enough to maintain in a home without worrying about your roof. In another sense, it overlooks the fact that a roof can go a long way toward improving or changing your house's appearance, and this has never been more true than today. There are more roofing materials than ever — you don't have to settle for standard black shingles. You have your choice of color, texture and, of course, price. Furthermore, there's no reason your roof can't be worry-free. Today's roofing products combine durability with good looks.

OK, so we've settled the fact that you need a new roof. With a little research, you can install an asphalt shingle roof yourself. On the other hand, it's hard work. Besides, other types of roofs require professional installation, so you may have to hire someone. Picking a contractor is as important as choosing the right roofing. Here's a few words of advice:

Ask for as many references as you can get. Check that the contractor has a license if you live in a state that requires it

Seasonal songbirds soothe senses

Relief from the hassles and pressures of work is no longer solely an over-priced beach vacation at a tropical paradise resort. Drowning out the hustle and bustle of everyday life can be as simple as winding down to the beautiful sights and sounds of nature.

According to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, over 82 million Americans have discovered the joys of relaxing to the sweet melodies and playful antics of brightly colored songbirds feasting in their yards. Bird feeding is a simple and inexpensive way to invite the cheerful easy song of feathered friends to your home.

HOME & GAHDEN FEATURES

BIRD MUSIC HATH CHARM – Listening to the calming tones of songbirds is a great way to unwind from the pressures of everyday life. Attract robins, cardinals and other small singing birds to your yard to feed by hanging a lightweight birdfeeder, such as Easy Feeder from Easy Gardener.

Bird Songs

Birds sing for as many reasons as there are types of birds. For instance, a strong piercing song serves to threaten other birds and define territorial claims, whereas a rich, sweet song may be used by a male to attract a mate. Short, fierce cries are alarm calls used to warn other birds of impending danger. Other calls, called contact notes keep moving flocks in touch with each other as they fly across vast regions. In all, birds sing to communicate with each other, out of love or competition, and for the sheer pleasure of hearing their own voices.

Songbirds supplement their diets with the seeds and nuts they find in bird feeders, such as the Easy Feeder from Easy Gardner, Inc., often rewarding their providers with a musical medley of chirps and whistles. A generous and diverse assortment of seed, including sunflower seeds, oatmeal flakes and crushed peanuts, is certain to attract a wide variety of bird species. When these birds flock together around the feeder, a veritable symphony can be heard.

Bird Varieties.

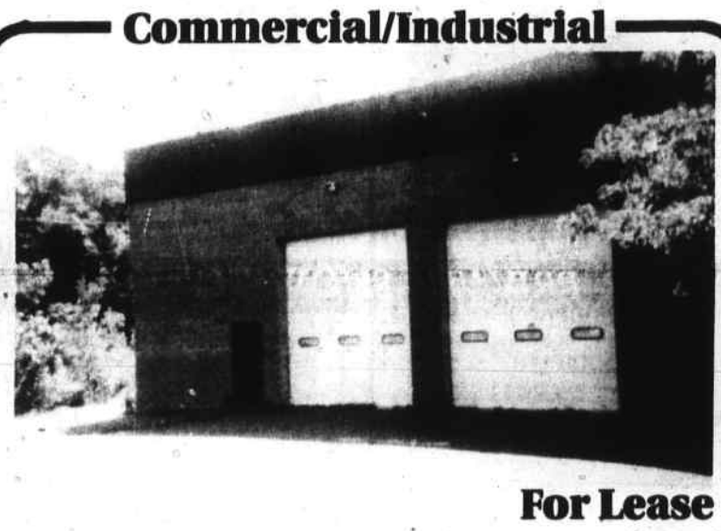

The ability to identify different birds at the feeder is a great source of pride and enjoyment to many ardent bird watchers. One of the most frequently sighted birds is the robin. Best known for its sleek brick-red breast, the robin can build a home in almost every part of the country, from forests or fields to coastal areas and mountain glades. Its diet consists of a variety of insects, grubs, nuts and seeds. The robin's varied fluid warbling makes it a favorite of bird watchers everywhere.

The best know woodpecker in North America is also a frequent sight at the bird feeder. A great fan of seeds and suet, the inquisitive downy woodpecker will readily visit accessible feeding stations. The male of the species is marked with a bright red head patch in addition to more subdued black and white feathers.

The blue jay has earned the well-deserved reputation of being the easiest bird to attract with the least amount of effort. A great fan of cracked corn, suet and sunflower seeds, its bright blue and white feathers and brilliant color and spirit to the yard while its enormous repertoire of original songs calms and soothes daily tensions.

A sweet, mournful call distinguishes the gentle mourning dove from sharper, shriller songbirds. The most widespread dove in the United States, this bird has become a common sight at bird feeders, eating most varieties of seed including millet, oat, and corn. Its warm brown body, soft, pinkish breast and characteristic black wing spotting make the mourning dove a soothing sight at the feeder.

(not just a business license but a license for the trade). Ask to see insurance and bonding certificates.

Review the contract carefully. Any home-improvement contract should be specific. It should cover when the work will start and when it will be completed (depending on weather), the complete cost (including the disposal of roofing debris), and the type and color of roofing should be specified in detail. Incidentally, the word "square" will probably come up in the contract or in your discussions. A square is 100 square feet of roofing.

Ask the contractor if the existing roofing needs to be torn off because some communities allow no more than two layers of shingles on a roof. Also ask if the deck or portions of it need to be replaced.

Finally, ask about the roofing's fire rating (Class A is most resistant to flame spread, Class B is next, followed by Class C). Some communities permit only Class A and B roofing.

All this makes the process sound more complex than it is. It all boils down to this: if you are going to go through the expense and the mess of having your house reroofed, you want the job done right. Speaking of mess, make it clear that the job site be as clean after the job as before it. This includes using a magnetic sweep or dragging a magnetic bar over the driveway to catch roofing nails.

For more information on working with roofing contractors, contact the National Roofing Contractors Assn., 10255 W. Higgins Rd., Suite 600, Rosemont, Ill. 60018.
